Would Replace French-German Pact

Khrushchev Presses Bid For Moscow-Paris Axis

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev pressed his campaign today for a Moscow-Paris axis to replace the growing alliance between France and West Germany.

The Soviet leader again assailed West Germany and emphasized that he believed France and the Soviet Union together could be a force to maintain peace on the Continent.

Khrushchev made his remarks in response to a toast to peace given by Premier Michel Debre at a luncheon in the Hotel Matignon, Debre's official residence.

He suggested that the ultimate in good relations between France and the Soviet Union would be achieved by a "pact of nonaggression between the two groupings of states." He apparently referred to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its Communist counterpart, the Warsaw Pact.

French sources, without quoting him directly, said he stressed the theme which he brought out shortly after his arrival Wednesday for a presummit visit with President Charles de Gaulle—that Germany is a menace and France should not trust her.

Khrushchev held a two-hour private talk with De Gaulle at the Elysee Palace this morning. Two interpreters were the only persons present as the two leaders talked in De Gaulle's private office.

They smiled pleasantly as they emerged and shook hands on the palace steps. Then Khrushchev drove off through a rain to lunch with Debre.

The first talks were held in a very good atmosphere, an aide to De Gaulle said. A high French source said the initial talk was largely exploratory and that De Gaulle and Khrushchev ranged over several subjects in the first of their series of meetings.

Khrushchev arrived at the palace in a pouring rain for the first business talk of his 11-day visit to France. Scores of policemen lined the Premier's route from the foreign office, where he is staying, but few Parisians were out.

No formal agenda was announced for the Khrushchev-De Gaulle talks, but the Soviet Premier made his objectives clear Wednesday in three public statements. These are his aims:

1. To woo France from her new ties with West Germany and replace the Paris-Bonn alliance with a close French-Soviet understanding.

2. To plug for a German peace treaty on Soviet lines.

3. To hammer away for disarmament on Soviet terms.

4. To weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Western European Union, to both of which West Germany belongs.

What headway he may make is highly problematical. De Gaulle maintained a courteous reserve throughout the opening day of the visit but showed no sympathy with Khrushchev's talk of new danger from Germany.

De Gaulle aired his own view on Germany publicly at a banquet in the Soviet leader's honor at the Elysee Palace Wednesday night. In polite but firm words, he declared the Germans' "unabounded ambition," which had twice menaced the continent in this century, had disappeared. He also disagreed with the standard Soviet line that the West German government seeks revenge for the World War II defeat.

6 Initial Points Listed

Reds, NATO Reach Accord On Principles To Disarm

GENEVA (AP) — Delegates of the Soviet bloc and the North Atlantic Alliance tentatively agreed today on six initial principles for the control of an East-West disarmament treaty.

The two sides at the 10-nation disarmament conference remained sharply divided, however, on how to go on from there.

The six points of agreement were defined by the French disarmament expert, Jules Moch, on behalf of his own country, the United States, Britain, Italy and Canada.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin welcomed Moch's definition but avoided all discussion of details.

Moch's definition summarized the points of East-West agreement on control principles which the Western delegations believe emerged during the first week of the 10-nation talks.

These were:

1. Acceptance of the need for an international disarmament organization to act as the enforcement organ of a treaty.

2. The need for control of every stage of agreed disarmament from the beginning to the end of the process.

3. The continuation of control after the completion of any agreed disarmament measure to prevent secret violations.

4. The need for full participation of all states in a general worldwide disarmament treaty. This would include particularly Red China, which is not represented at this conference.

5. The need to control the actual cuts in men and weapons made in compliance with the treaty.

6. The need for verification carried out by an international staff of inspectors.

U.S. Rejects Russian Claim About Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States formally rejected today Russia's claim that Berlin is part of Soviet controlled East Germany.

The State Department produced documents in English and Russian which it said "clearly indicate that Berlin was designated as a separate area to be jointly occupied."

The documents were signed by Soviet, American and British representatives in London on Sept. 12, 1944—before Berlin had been captured by Soviet forces.

Newsmen were handed a photographic reproduction of the original English and Russian texts which spelled out the zones the troops of each would occupy.

Salem Group Buys Building For Industry

SALEM — The First Salem Corp., a newly-organized group of local residents concerned with industrial employment, has purchased the Salem-Brosius building on Broadway, Atty. Walter J. Hunston, representative, announced.

The purchase was effective as of March 1 from John and Irene Blosco of East Palestine.

"Within the next week, the FSC expects to announce the first industry to be located in the building," Hunston said.

The building has been vacant since 1954 when the Salem-Brosius Co. moved its operations to Carnegie, Pa.

The building has 3 floors and a basement and contains 43,000 feet of floor space.

New Effort Set For Reaching Crashed Plane

ELKINS, W. Va. (AP)—Military personnel will try again today to reach a two-engine plane which crashed in northeastern West Virginia.

The wreckage lay against the heavily wooded slope of a deep mountain ravine. It was spotted Wednesday by the crew of an Army search helicopter.

Deep snowdrifts balked efforts to reach the burned aircraft.

An Air Force C45 disappeared Tuesday in the Allegheny Mountains with three men and a woman aboard.

The wreckage was seen about 25 air miles southeast of Elkins, in the general vicinity of Spruce Knob, rising to a height of 4,860 feet, the highest point in West Virginia.

His passengers were Elizabeth D. Tucker, 46, of Richmond, Va.; Dr. Monroe L. Hatch of Sumter, S. C., and Maj. Clarence Bomar, 30, of Raleigh, N. C.

Suspended Tolltaker Will Face Grand Jury

BEAVER FALLS — Frank LaCava, 41, of Ellwood City, one of 5 suspended Pennsylvania Turnpike toll collectors accused of keeping toll money, faces Grand Jury action on charges of fraudulent conversion and conspiracy.

LaCava, held for court by a justice of the peace Wednesday, posted $400 bond pending his appearance before the Beaver County panel in April.

The toll collectors were arrested March 2. They are charged with taking $1,800 in tolls. All except LaCava pleaded guilty.

House Okay Assured For Rights Bill

Passage Scheduled On Measure Headed By Referee Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House sends to the Senate today a five-point civil rights bill featuring court-appointed referees to help Negroes fight discrimination against them at the polls.

A last-minute Southern maneuver forced postponement until today of the formal vote to pass the bill. The outcome is in no doubt.

The House voted 295-124 Wednesday to confirm its key decision. That is for referees to be appointed by federal courts where they find that a pattern of discrimination in voting rights exists. The referees are to certify the eligibility of qualified Negroes, or members of other minorities, and supervise their exercise of their rights.

The Senate, which may get the bill late today, faces continued determined efforts by Southerners to delay it, fatally if possible. If the Senate changes the bill in any way, Southerners in the House will have another chance to throw blocks in its path.

Various courses of Senate action are open, and both Democratic and Republican leaders declined to tip their hand in advance.

In addition to the referee provision, the House bill seeks to support voting rights with a provision designed to prevent deliberate frustration by local officials of federal investigation. This provision requires that election records be preserved at least two years and shown to the attorney general's representatives on demand.

The three other key provisions of the bill would:

1. Provide federal penalties—up to $1,000 fine and 60 days in jail—for interference by violence or threats with the carrying out of a school integration order issued by a federal court. Proponents said the disturbances at Little Rock, Ark., which led to the calling out of federal troops, inspired this section.

2. Make possible FBI participation in the investigation of bombing cases. This would be done by defining as federal crimes efforts to escape prosecution for bombings, threats or false reports of bombings, by crossing state lines. The penalties would range up to $5,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

3. Authorize creation of special federal schools for the children of servicemen, living on or off government posts, if they were cut off from public education by the closing of local schools to avoid court orders against segregation.

Court 'Plugs' Multi-Million Tax Loophole

3 Decisions Open Way For Collection; Kresge, Heinz Cited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A multi-million-dollar sales tax loophole has been plugged by the Ohio Supreme Court.

About five million dollars in back taxes and an undetermined amount in the future can be collected as the result of three decisions Wednesday, said Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert J. Kosydar.

A $396,579 tax assessment against the S. S. Kresge Co. was affirmed 6-0, clearing the way for similar collections from other "dime" stores operating in the state.

A second decision unanimously affirmed an $11,000 assessment against the H. J. Heinz Co., food packers. The third ruling upheld an assessment of about $1,500 against Buddies Lunch System, Inc. of Findlay.

In the Kresge case, the assessment followed failure of the store to keep adequate records between 1952 and 1956. The tax commissioner ran test checks at 36 of the chain's 89 Ohio stores to determine the percentage of total sales subject to tax during the audit period.

Kresge's claimed the test period was not representative but the

Sen. Symington Reveals Candidacy For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) laid down a four-point peace-and-progress program in a formal announcement today he is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

His statement avoided direct mention of the primary theme he has pursued in months of campaigning—that the United States is falling dangerously behind the Soviet Union in the development of intercontinental missiles.

Instead, Symington confined himself to the statement that "only a first-rate, first-class, first-place America can reinforce the world's faith in freedom and secure a just and lasting peace."

He said the next president of the United States—which he wants to be—"must provide the free world with resourceful and decisive leadership." In the past, Symington has accused President Eisenhower of failing to supply the country with leadership.

Symington arranged an afternoon news conference at which he appeared likely to rule out any primary race except that in Oregon May 20.

Symington said he would emphasize four major policies in

Stores Given Warning On Bogus Checks

The State Police commissioner of Pennsylvania has directed a warning to Tri - State police departments and store operators, particularly supermarkets, that a counterfeit check gang plans on cashing $10,000 worth of phony checks Friday and Saturday in Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and Northern West Virginia.

"We don't know where they may work," Frank G. McCartney said Wednesday at Harrisburg, "but these checks are counterfeits of payroll checks issued by industrial plants."

McCartney said four gang members under arrest for cashing checks have implicated other persons who have not been arrested.

"In the past," McCartney, said, "they have concentrated largely on supermarkets, and it is likely the markets will be their places of disposal this time. The checks generally are drawn in amounts of $175 to $185, and each pusher has been supplied with identity cards to make them appear legitimate."

Those under arrest are Joseph T. Otis, 29; Stanley A. Trader, 23; Daryl R. Honick, and James Wentz. They gave Pittsburgh addresses. McCartney said the four told police the gang has cashed $100,000 in phony checks since Feb. 1.

Colder Temperatures, Snow Flurries Forecast

Winter is hanging on, although the calendar says spring, so temperatures will dip tonight with more snow flurries and winds to add to the chill.

The cold will continue through Friday with temperatures slightly lower and afternoon readings mostly in the 30's, the Ohio weatherman said.

Ed Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, said the continued low temperatures may make the month the coldest March in his 65-year records. There was a low of 20 degrees at his home last night.

U.S. Base Declared Subject To Cuban Laws

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's leftist labor minister declared today the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba is a "foreign business" subject to Cuban laws.

The assertion by Augusto Martinez Sanchez was the first official hint of pressure tactics the Castro regime might use in case of conflict over the status of the U.S.-leased base.

Woman Hurt, Autoist Cited For Collision

Motorist Reports Stalled Car Hit But 2 Deny Involvement

A West Virginia woman was injured in one of four district accidents reported by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday — including a three-car Calcutta area mishap called "mixed up" by officers.

Gladys Maxwell, 53, of Bridgeport, W. Va., was taken to Salem City Hospital following a collision between a coal truck driven by Clarence Doughty, 61, of R. D. 2 and a car operated by Cleveland Maxwell. 29, of Cleveland on Route 30 about 4 miles south of Lisbon.

The woman was a passenger in Maxwell's car which hit the rear of Doughty's truck about 12:55 p.m. as the trucker was making a left turn, officers said. She suffered a laceration of the forehead and of the right knee.

Maxwell was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

John Taylor, 49, of R. D. 2 reported to the patrol his car was struck by two other autos on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. about a mile and a half east of Calcutta at 7:10 a. m.

Taylor said he was stalled on the hill, and one car came down the hill and hit the side of his car and another did the same. The drivers stopped, discussed the mishap, and all left without reporting the incident to the patrol.

When Taylor was later advised by an insurance agent to report the crash, he submitted the license numbers of the other drivers, but holders of the licenses denied they were in such a mishap, the patrol said.

Minor damage resulted from a sideswipe collision on the Highland-town-New Salisbury Rd. a mile south of Highlandtown at 7 a. m.

Cars driven by Claude Logan, 30, of Hammondsville and Edwin Downard, 56, of Wellsville R. D. 1 sideswiped on the narrow, snow-drifted road at a hillcrest, the patrol said.

Three Women Are In Group Being Held At Gunpoint By Pair

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A hardened convict told newsmen by telephone from his captured office in the Tennessee Penitentiary today he was willing to surrender himself and his hostages if his partner would do so. But he said the second convict refused.

Robert Rivera, 25, of Temple, Tex., serving 40 years on an armed robbery charge, and Charles Raymond Farra, 25, of Borderland, W.Va., serving life for robbery, have held 16 to 19 hostages at gun-point since mid-afternoon Wednesday. None was hurt. Three hostages are women.

Rivera told a newsman in a telephone interview on a pool basis that he would surrender if officials would release Farra from prison or if Farra would agree to the surrender. State authorities would make no agreement to release either man.

"We can hold out here a long time," Rivera told the newsman. "We won't hurt the women unless we are rushed. We haven't cursed the women. We can wait. We might be awful skinny (before it's over) but we can wait."

Rivera asked to talk to one newsman on the pool arrangement so he could list some of his grievances. The convict then listened on an extension phone while a trusty, held among the hostages, listed them.

The trusty said Rivera's complaints included:

Procedures of the parole board in considering parole applications, the prison merit system, lack of proper medical attention, sanitary conditions at the prison, lack of educational facilities for inmates and the use of paddles for spanking unruly prisoners.

Rivera then permitted one of the hostages, Byron Bean, Nashville lawyer, to speak by telephone to the newsman. Bean, caught in the group while visiting a client, said the two convicts were holding 18 hostages, including five trusties. One, Sam Broyles, was released during the night because of illness. He suffers from stomach ulcers.

Previous reports placed the number at nine and then Corrections Commissioner Keith Hampton said late Wednesday night there were 16.

Khrushchev Presses Bid For Moscow-Paris Axis

Stores Given Warning On Bogus Checks

The State Police commissioner of Pennsylvania has directed a warning to Tri - State police departments and store operators, particularly supermarkets, that a counterfeit check gang plans on cashing $10,000 worth of phony checks Friday and Saturday in Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and Northern West Virginia.

"We don't know where they may work," Frank G. McCartney said Wednesday at Harrisburg, "but these checks are counterfeits of payroll checks issued by industrial plants."

McCartney said four gang members under arrest for cashing checks have implicated other persons who have not been arrested.

"In the past," McCartney, said, "they have concentrated largely on supermarkets, and it is likely the markets will be their places of disposal this time. The checks generally are drawn in amounts of $175 to $185, and each pusher has been supplied with identity cards to make them appear legitimate."

Those under arrest are Joseph T. Otis, 29; Stanley A. Trader, 23; Daryl R. Honick, and James Wentz. They gave Pittsburgh addresses. McCartney said the four told police the gang has cashed $100,000 in phony checks since Feb. 1.

Colder Temperatures, Snow Flurries Forecast

Winter is hanging on, although the calendar says spring, so temperatures will dip tonight with more snow flurries and winds to add to the chill.

The cold will continue through Friday with temperatures slightly lower and afternoon readings mostly in the 30's, the Ohio weatherman said.

Ed Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, said the continued low temperatures may make the month the coldest March in his 65-year records. There was a low of 20 degrees at his home last night.

U.S. Base Declared Subject To Cuban Laws

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's leftist labor minister declared today the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba is a "foreign business" subject to Cuban laws.

The assertion by Augusto Martinez Sanchez was the first official hint of pressure tactics the Castro regime might use in case of conflict over the status of the U.S.-leased base.

Woman Hurt, Autoist Cited For Collision

Motorist Reports Stalled Car Hit But 2 Deny Involvement

A West Virginia woman was injured in one of four district accidents reported by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday — including a three-car Calcutta area mishap called "mixed up" by officers.

Gladys Maxwell, 53, of Bridgeport, W. Va., was taken to Salem City Hospital following a collision between a coal truck driven by Clarence Doughty, 61, of R. D. 2 and a car operated by Cleveland Maxwell, 29, of Cleveland on Route 30 about 4 miles south of Lisbon.

The woman was a passenger in Maxwell's car which hit the rear of Doughty's truck about 12:55 p.m. as the trucker was making a left turn, officers said. She suffered a laceration of the forehead and of the right knee.

Maxwell was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

John Taylor, 49, of R. D. 2 reported to the patrol his car was struck by two other autos on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. about a mile and a half east of Calcutta at 7:10 a. m.

Taylor said he was stalled on the hill, and one car came down the hill and hit the side of his car and another did the same. The drivers stopped, discussed the mishap, and all left without reporting the incident to the patrol.

When Taylor was later advised by an insurance agent to report the crash, he submitted the license numbers of the other drivers, but holders of the licenses denied they were in such a mishap, the patrol said.

Minor damage resulted from a sideswipe collision on the Highlandtown-New Salisbury Rd. a mile south of Highlandtown at 7 a. m.

Cars driven by Claude Logan, 30, of Hammondsville and Edwin Downard, 56, of Wellsville R. D. 1 sideswiped on the narrow, snow-drifted road at a hillcrest, the patrol said.

Gives Peace-Progress Program

Sen. Symington Reveals Candidacy For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) laid down a four-point peace-and-progress program in a formal announcement today he is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

His statement avoided direct mention of the primary theme he has pursued in months of campaigning—that the United States is falling dangerously behind the Soviet Union in the development of intercontinental missiles.

Instead, Symington confined himself to the statement that "only a first-rate, first-class, first-place America can reinforce the world's faith in freedom and secure a just and lasting peace."

He said the next president of the United States—which he wants to be—"must provide the free world with resourceful and decisive leadership." In the past, Symington has accused President Eisenhower of failing to supply the country with leadership.

Symington arranged an afternoon news conference at which he appeared likely to rule out any primary race except that in Oregon May 20.

Symington said he would emphasize four major policies in

City's Census Crew Named

Wellsville Staff Also Set For April Count

The 18-member staff which will enumerate East Liverpool in the April nationwide census has been announced by Ray Neidengard, crew leader. The Wellsville staff has also been completed.

Of the 56 city area men and women who took the examination, 18 failed, Neidengard said.

Instruction for the staff — due to start the enumeration April 1, with some preliminary counting late this month at hotels, City Hospital and the jail—will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Elks Lodge at Wellsville. Instruction will start at 9 a. m. and continue three hours daily.

'F.P.A.' Dies At 78

Franklin Pierce Adams, Columnist, Poet Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — Franklin Pierce Adams, the "F.P.A." whose wit and wisdom delighted millions, died Wednesday night.

The 78-year-old newspaper columnist and unabashed poet, one of radio's earliest panel stars on "Information Please," had been confined to a nursing home for the past five years. Death was attributed to hardening of the arteries.

"F.P.A." had not signed those initials to a regular column since 1941. But for a time shortly after World War II he wrote a syndicated daily piece of several paragraphs called "This Little World."

His verse—on subjects ranging from baseball to humorous "translations" of the classics—appeared in many collections as well as in his columns.

His best-known bit of verse, quoted by thousands who may not have known its source, had to do with an immortal Chicago Cubs infield and was entitled "Baseball's Sad Lexicon":

"These are the saddest of possible words.

" 'Tinker to Evers to Chance.'

"Tinker and Evers and Chance.

"Ruthlessly pricking our gonfalon bubble,

"Making a Giant hit into a double—

" 'Tinker to Evers to Chance.' "

To many Americans "F.P.A." was the seemingly shy, head-dipping man with the long nose and big mustache who helped white-haired former sports writer John Kieran answer Clifton Fadiman's toughest questions on "Information Please" on radio and later TV. The 1952 TV version was short-lived, folding after one season.

Adams' second wife, Esther Sayles Root Adams, survives, as do three sons, Timothy, a staff member of the San Francisco Examiner; Anthony, of Weston, Conn., and Jonathan, of New Canaan, Conn.; and a daughter, Miss Persephone Adams, of New York.

Adams was born in Chicago, attended the University of Michigan briefly, then began selling insurance.

It was not long before he turned to newspaper work, becoming a $25-a-week columnist for the Chicago Journal without an apprenticeship as a reporter.

After a year of writing "A Little About Everything" for the Journal, he came here to spend nine years on the old Evening Mail.

New Violence Flares Up In African Strife

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—New violence flared early today in the big Nyanga Negro settlement near Cape Town. The Africans set up road blocks, built fires in the street and kept out white police patrols for hours.

Police held their fire.

The Nationalist government and police charged "terrorist agitators" in Nyanga and other Negro settlements were resorting to death threats and assault to enforce a work boycott Negro leaders ordered after police earlier this week killed about 80 Negroes and wounded more than 200.

A midnight alert sent police patrols rushing to Nyanga. They found the settlement barricaded, with oil drums stacked in roadblocks and fires burning.

Whites who entered the settlement on foot were ordered out by the Negroes.

At daybreak a strong police force managed to penetrate the settlement and described the situation as "quiet but tense."

The Negroes have shifted their campaign against the white supremacy law requiring them to carry passes by resorting to work stoppages instead of demonstrations. A creeping paralysis has begun to be felt in some industrial centers, especially in the Vereeniging coal mining and steel district.

Wellsville Man Denies Charge In Check Case

Alexander (Boots) Wright of Commerce St., Wellsville, pleaded not guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he issued a $90 check to the Central Service Co. at Newell Jan. 26, drawing it on an East Liverpool bank where he had no account.

Signed by Atty. Donald E. Smith, as counsel for the auto concern, the charge alleged the check was drawn on the Potters Bank & Trust Co. "with intent to defraud." It was signed "Boots Wright." A check was attached to the affidavit carrying a notation from the bank that no individual of that name had an account there.

When Wright said he wants to obtain counsel, Judge Chertoff continued the case until Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. At the suggestion of the complaining witness, Wright was released on his own recognizance.

Alibi Claimed In Holdup Case

LISBON — Atty. Franis X. Diana of Warren Wednesday afternoon, filed a notice of proof of alibi for James Harold Maras, 20, of Warren, indicted by the January Grand Jury for the armed robbery of the Barnett's Motel near Salem Dec. 11. Diana also requested a bill of particulars from Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

The Maras trial was scheduled to begin last Monday but was postponed by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard when the defense counsel said he had received no notice. He claims he has witnesses to prove that at the time the crime was committed, as alleged in the indictment, that Maras was at his home in Warren.

Maras is accused of being in a trio which held up the motel and took $650 in cash.

His brother, Edmond Maras, 30, of Newton Falls still is being southt by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. He escaped from the Freeport (Ill.) jail last Jan. 15 while being held for return to Columbiana County.

A third suspect in the motel robbery, Charles Harris, 38, formerly of Warren, was killed in Dixon, Ill., last Jan. 4 when he pulled a revolver on police. He had been with the older Maras.

Chief witnesses for the state will be Nick Rini, motel owner, and Miss Berdina Berger, clerk. They viewed a lineup at the County Jail and identified the younger Maras as one of the holdup trio.

The three stopped by a police department north of Salem sometime after the holdup but were released because officers had no report of the armed robbery at that time.

The indictment was returned Tuesday by the grand jury. Miss Slife was shot in Buzard's car shortly after the couple had returned from Sunday church services, police said.

Chessman Hikes His Superior IQ Rating 3 Points

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Condemned Caryl Chessman has increased his superior IQ by three points after 12 death row years of fighting off gas chamber execution.

Chessman's score of 130 in an intelligence test given him this month by San Quentin Prison psychologists ranks him among the top three per cent of the American population in mental ability. The score rates him as possessing very superior intelligence.

Chessman scored 127 on the same Wechsler-Bellevue testing scale in June, 1941. He entered the prison then on the first of two armed robbery convictions that preceded his 1948 double death sentence for kidnaping, robbing and sexually abusing two Los Angeles women.

His ninth execution date now is scheduled for May 2. He evaded the gas chamber for the eighth time last Feb. 19 when Gov. Edmund G. Brown ordered a reprieve 10 hours before the scheduled execution.

New Violence Flares Up In African Strife

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—New violence flared early today in the big Nyanga Negro settlement near Cape Town. The Africans set up road blocks, built fires in the street and kept out white police patrols for hours.

Police held their fire.

The Nationalist government and police charged "terrorist agitators" in Nyanga and other Negro settlements were resorting to death threats and assault to enforce a work boycott Negro leaders ordered after police earlier this week killed about 80 Negroes and wounded more than 200.

A midnight alert sent police patrols rushing to Nyanga. They found the settlement barricaded, with oil drums stacked in roadblocks and fires burning.

Whites who entered the settlement on foot were ordered out by the Negroes.

At daybreak a strong police force managed to penetrate the settlement and described the situation as "quiet but tense."

The Negroes have shifted their campaign against the white supremacy law requiring them to carry passes by resorting to work stoppages instead of demonstrations. A creeping paralysis has begun to be felt in some industrial centers, especially in the Vereeniging coal mining and steel district.

Wellsville Man Denies Charge In Check Case

Alexander (Boots) Wright of Commerce St., Wellsville, pleaded not guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he issued a $90 check to the Central Service Co. at Newell Jan. 26, drawing it on an East Liverpool bank where he had no account.

Signed by Atty. Donald E. Smith, as counsel for the auto concern, the charge alleged the check was drawn on the Potters Bank & Trust Co. "with intent to defraud." It was signed "Boots Wright." A check was attached to the affidavit carrying a notation from the bank that no individual of that name had an account there.

When Wright said he wants to obtain counsel, Judge Chertoff continued the case until Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. At the suggestion of the complaining witness, Wright was released on his own recognizance.

Alibi Claimed In Holdup Case

LISBON — Atty. Franis X. Diana of Warren Wednesday afternoon, filed a notice of proof of alibi for James Harold Maras, 20, of Warren, indicted by the January Grand Jury for the armed robbery of the Barnett's Motel near Salem Dec. 11. Diana also requested a bill of particulars from Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

The Maras trial was scheduled to begin last Monday but was postponed by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard when the defense counsel said he had received no notice. He claims he has witnesses to prove that at the time the crime was committed, as alleged in the indictment, that Maras was at his home in Warren.

Maras is accused of being in a trio which held up the motel and took $650 in cash.

His brother, Edmond Maras, 30, of Newton Falls still is being southt by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. He escaped from the Freeport (Ill.) jail last Jan. 15 while being held for return to Columbiana County.

A third suspect in the motel robbery, Charles Harris, 38, formerly of Warren, was killed in Dixon, Ill., last Jan. 4 when he pulled a revolver on police. He had been with the older Maras.

Chief witnesses for the state will be Nick Rini, motel owner, and Miss Berdina Berger, clerk. They viewed a lineup at the County Jail and identified the younger Maras as one of the holdup trio.

The three stopped by a police department north of Salem sometime after the holdup but were released because officers had no report of the armed robbery at that time.

About 150 are expected at a banquet of the FFA Tuesday night at 7 at the high school at which Dick Thompson, Ohio FFA president, will be a guest, along with members' parents.

Faces Arraignment

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Victor L. Buzard of Akron, 22-year-old Kent State University student, faces arraignment here Friday on second-degree murder charges in the fatal shooting Jan. 10 of his girl friend, Miss Paula Slife, 21, also of Akron. The indictment was returned Tuesday by the grand jury. Miss Slife was shot in Buzard's car shortly after the couple had returned from Sunday church services, police said.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Condemned Caryl Chessman has increased his superior IQ by three points after 12 death row years of fighting off gas chamber execution.

Chessman's score of 130 in an intelligence test given him this month by San Quentin Prison psychologists ranks him among the top three per cent of the American population in mental ability. The score rates him as possessing very superior intelligence.

Chessman scored 127 on the same Wechsler-Bellevue testing scale in June, 1941. He entered the prison then on the first of two armed robbery convictions that preceded his 1948 double death sentence for kidnaping, robbing and sexually abusing two Los Angeles women.

His ninth execution date now is scheduled for May 2. He evaded the gas chamber for the eighth time last Feb. 19 when Gov. Edmund G. Brown ordered a reprieve 10 hours before the scheduled execution.

Get The Facts, Sen. Young

Ohio's junior senator, Stephen M. Young, should have picked up enough wisdom on his way to seniority in years to know the difference between a shotgun and a rifle when he draws a bead on a public issue.

His blast in the Senate against President Eisenhower's request for increased rates for first class mail became a shotgun assault when he said the Post Office Department's deficit could be blamed on a "virtual government subsidy amounting to almost 750 million dollars to newspapers, magazines and business groups."

If Sen. Young had used a rifle instead of a shotgun, he would have said that newspapers have gone on record repeatedly that they are willing to pay whatever it costs the Post Office Department to handle the copies of their publication sent through the mail and that they believe they now are doing this, with something to spare.

They want the Post Office Department to use realistic bookkeeping that will show the actual cost of service, instead of fast-shuffle bookkeeping that shifts deficits from one type of service into a catch-all deficit which then can be blamed on the whipping boys of politicians who find it profitable to take out their spite on newspapers, magazines and businessmen.

A large volume of statistical facts on what it actually costs the Post Office Department to handle various classes of mail has been put together by American Newspaper Publishers Assn. There are no secrets about the newspaper industry's point of view. It wants to pay the Post Office Department everything it owes. It does not want to pay more than it owes — and it does not want politicians to make shotgun charges that newspapers are being subsidized by the government. If anything, it's the other way around.

Chief and foremost among post office free loaders are senators, representatives and other public employes who use the franking privilege to distribute mail.

An Act Of Heroism

Acts of heroism such as that displayed by two Wellsville brothers during a fire Tuesday night merit special recognition.

The fact that three occupants of the house had fled the scene earlier in no way detracts from the bravery of Charles and Andrew Turick, who risked their own lives in an effort to save those believed trapped in the flames.

It was a courageous thing which the Turicks did and it is pleasing to have the opportunity to commend two more district residents for being ready to lend a helping hand in time of need.

Mushroom-Shaped Punctuation

The least surprising thing that could happen before the end of March, now that time is running out on delayed signs of spring, would be a nuclear explosion in the People's Republic of China.

The National People's Congress meets before the end of the month. This would be an ideal time for the Communist Chinese to punctuate their growing military importance with a mushroom-shaped cloud, signifying they had joined the international nuclear club under Russian sponsorship.

A member of the Indian Parliament, Dr. Raghhuvira, has predicted the place will be Urumchi, capital of Sinkiang Province, and the time will be March 28. His prediction has been listened to carefully because of his knowledge of Red China. He believes Red China has made more progress in nuclear work than France, which detonated its first nuclear device on Feb. 13.

A nuclear device is not a bomb. It is the last stage of development before the development of a bomb. The stage can be reached by any nation willing to spend the money and time required to join the nuclear club —about 100 million dollars and five years, according to the National Planning Assn. The association reports that China is one of 11 nations capable of making nuclear weapons.

There is nothing exclusive about the nuclear club. There are no secret passwords, no secret grips, no mysterious ceremonials. The possibilities of danger are being multiplied every time another member joins; it is one more group of authorized mortals with the power to set off atomic warfare with one wrong order based on one bit of misinformation.

If Red China joins, there will be no room for any illusion about nuclear energy in responsible hands. There could be no more irresponsible hands on earth than the hands of the aggressors who started the Korean War and never ended it.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Federal controls of drinking on airplanes are in force on domestic and foreign trips. Tipsy passengers get no booze; drinking from a flask will be prohibited and there will be a limit of two drinks served except on overseas flights. Hostesses must now constitute "YHE" (you've had enough) corps. They must be private eyes, expert sniffers and judges of curious facial expressions.

Girls will be in a tough spot handling "wild-booze-yonder boys" who like to come in on a wing and a skin full.

Airplane drinker can be stubborn. He thinks he is earthbound when he comes aboard with one of his martinis missing. If he has not made a pest of himself by the time of takeoff he is sure the plane is earthbound.

New rules are okay but they overlook the fact alcoholic capacities differ. Many a man can seem cold sober when really he's close to the point of becoming a menace, cloud by cloud. The switch from apparent sobriety to general nuisance can be so fast the most discerning hostess can only cry, "Brother, he took off faster than the plane."

Imagine what a chance she has to watch for vanishing flask at the very moment she is being signaled by a woman who wants a pillow, a mother who seeks a pill for the kids and a gent who demands full data on the plane's position.

How can a hostess tell when a man has had enough to drink, when the police, courts and scientists can't?

What pixilated man is going to accept a woman's verdict on his condition? Isn't there every chance a hostess who says, "None of that" to a flask carrier at a New York takeoff will still be in argument as the plane comes in for a Frisco landing?

Manner in which those Russian lads, 49 days on life raft without food or drink and consuming boiled shoe leather part of the time, came out of it with little emaciation and full cheeks would indicate physical condition of the Soviet youth is something Uncle Sam had better catch up with. Nobody can convince this writer that federal, state, and city governments are against waste of money when they pour millions into some of the beach-filling projects presumably to halt erosion. Jobs we have seen have been poorly done, with the new beaches largely washed away in a short time. Beach building without suitable "groins" to prevent damage from the high seas is a waste of funds. Up in our neck of the woods, the results of a costly job done only a couple of years ago are largely invisible. It's all done by mirrors.

Uncle Sam doesn't look too good demanding fair play for all peoples, from the viewpoint of Tuscarora Indians. Treaty with Iriquois Confederacy, 400 years old, guaranteed them their lands. "As long as grass grows green, rivers run free and the sun sinks in the West." Nevertheless they've just lost their fight for the treaty's protection in New York State. The Red Man now holds that no matter how the grass grows, rivers run or the sun sets, it all depends on how lawyers run and when the court sets.

Not Till You Quit Makin' Stone Hatchets!

Nixon Seeks New York Backing

By Victor Riesel

Richard Nixon moved swiftly in and out of New York City last Wednesday but was there long enough to start a boom for Nelson Rockefeller.

Victor Riesel

That was a Rockefeller-for-Vice-President boom, of course. Nixon and his most sophisticated advisers in the big town discussed the contacts they've made and the conversations they've had with the Rockefeller "camp."

These have been intense, for the Nixon strategists are harassed by a nagging bit of history. Only one man — Harry Truman — has ever been elected President of the United States without carrying New York State, which has the heaviest labor concentration in the land. And it doesn't appear now that Nixon can take the region — not without Gov. Rockefeller's help.

They want Rockefeller tied right into the ticket — and they will whip up a draft movement which will blow more and more furiously as they roll into the heat of summertime Chicago.

AT THIS MOMENT, the governor has sent a very polite but grimly terse "no." His words were that he has no intention of surrendering a big office for a small office — namely the vice presidency.

Rockefeller is saying he's not being coy, he will not negotiate, he will not run.

This doesn't exactly leave Nixon in Diogenes' robes with a faltering lamp. There are alternative vice presidential candidates who could pull strongly in the state.

One is Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell, who is so much identified with New York that he can rip up his New Jersey passport.

Another is Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who lives in that glass house over by the East River, the U.N. Here the strategy is simple.

If the big presidential issue is domestic, Mitchell would be the better running mate. If it is international, Lodge would be the more logical man to get the nod.

Mitchell's handicap is his competence. He did his job too well. He ran interference for the vice president in the steel scrimmaging.

He set up the government committees which brought Nixon into personal contact with such AFL-CIO leaders as George Meany, Walter and Victor Reuther, Jim Carey and the powerful construction trades officials.

THERE WAS A MOMENT some weeks ago when they all sat around the same table. The labor people were under heavy public fire in the North for their failure to force the Washington, D. C., Electrical Workers Brotherhood to put Negroes to work.

The labor people retorted that it was really the fault of Nixon's Committee on Government Contracts. Nixon could have hurled the fight into the open with a charge that after all it was a local union which was keeping Negroes off the job.

Instead he said that he wouldn't hit the national labor leaders who had hit him earlier. He said that "everybody should be given a chance to work things out without a public fight. Simply to put the blame on anyone in labor, government or industry would be futile." He called for cooperation.

But labor continued to swat Nixon as though he were at the end of a fungo bat.

Only one union leader has declared for him. That's Morris Weissberger, head of the 9,000-member Sailors Union of the Pacific. This unit operates on the West Coast, with 15 of its 20 headquarters in California. S.U.P. support for the Republicans is traditional.

Politics being the most practical art of all, the Nixon people reckon they've gotten all the labor support they can round up. That's a telephone booth crowd.

If this is all Nixon's cooperation can gain from labor, his advisers say then why name Mitchell. That leaves Henry C. Lodge out front with Sen. Keating trotting along.

Talk Without Progress

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

In time the world—if relations between nations turn sour and savage again—may look back wistfully upon these days as the happy period of conversation without progress.

For months now the United States and the Soviet Union have been pretty much soft-pedaling their differences to avoid wrecking ahead of time the summit meeting May 16 between President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Whether they accomplish anything, besides talking, is doubtful. But at least while East and West are talking they're not hissing.

With the summit meeting still almost two months away Secretary of State Christian A. Herter already is trying to prepare the American people against disappointment. He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee this week:

"I'm very frank to admit that I'm not optimistic that the summit will produce very great results."

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) said it appears Eisenhower and Herter are going to the summit "without purpose, without plan, without hope of success." And Herter replied: "It's a gamble."

Herter summed up what seems to be the attitude—at this particular moment in history—when he said in a period of pushbutton war like this one it would be too risky not to sit down and talk.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, denied Wednesday that Gore was right in complaining the President and Herter were going to the summit without purpose, plan or hope of success.

But unless Eisenhower does go to the Paris meeting with some clear-cut ideas he may get a rude, shock from Khrushchev. The Russian seems to know ahead of time what he wants.

He can turn the summit into a propaganda victory for the Soviet Union if he makes proposals which have broad appeals and all the American government can do is hem and haw.

Khrushchev sounds like a man who has no doubts of what he wants at the summit. Within no time at all after arriving in France Wednesday he told President Charles de Gaulle the West must back down and sign a peace treaty with Germany.

This would require the West to recognize Communist East Germany as an independent nation. The West has stalled on this ever since the war. Its ally, West Germany, wants a unified Germany—not recognition of the Soviet idea that Germany should be permanently divided.

Khrushchev in France harped on another old theme: He wants an end to NATO and the Western European Union, both of which include West Germany as a member.

Since this is the last thing the United States wants, the Eisenhower-Khrushchev summit talks should be lively. But only a country boy with stars in his eyes at this moment can hope the talks will produce any solutions.

Political Sabotage

By David Lawrence

Party Bloc Interferes With Debt Management

While everybody is looking the other way at disarmament conferences and the gyrations of presidential candidates, a piece of political sabotage is going on in Washington that could be dangerous to the economy of the country in the immediate future.

David Lawrence

The sabotage consists of a deliberate interference in the Treasury Department's management of the public debt. The interference is coming from a group of so-called liberals in the Democratic party.

Whether it's partisan politics or sheer demagoguery, the fact is that the Treasury, which has the job of refunding billions of dollars of debt each year, is stymied by the refusal of the Democratic party in Congress as a whole to co-operate with the Republican President. This is a big price to pay for the privilege of having a divided government.

Certainly the right to determine what interest rates the public will pay for long-term or short-term securities belongs to the Treasury Department, which has to watch carefully the most complicated factors of the law of supply and demand in the credit markets of the country.

The Treasury feels out the market carefully and pays the rate it believes will attract investors.

But the Democrats in Congress have put up a roadblock. They insist that the Treasury may not pay more than 4¼ per cent for securities that mature more than five years hence but that the Treasury can offer as high a rate as it wishes for securities that are repayable in five years or less.

THIS MEANS that the Treasury is deprived of its power to deal effectively with a refunding of the tens of billions of dollars of the national debt that come due each year.

It is frustrating for a government which has so powerful an influence on world credit, and on interest rates throughout Europe especially, to find itself hampered in these delicate and vital financial transactions.

The damage, of course, is largely within the United States. Homebuilding is in for serious setbacks and this could affect the entire economy and be one of the factors that brings on an economic recession.

The National Association of Home Builders is worried. First it was against the interest change but now it has sent out a letter to its members urging all of them to write to their congressmen at once to give "strong support" to a change in the interest rate ceiling "at the earliest possible date."

Commenting on this, the "Wall Street Journal," in an editorial on Tuesday, says in part:

"When the Treasury was forced to borrow its billions on short-term notes alone, short-term interest rates went skyrocketing. Last fall the Treasury had to pay 5 per cent for notes maturing in less than five years. So, not unnaturally, people who had money in savings banks and building associations at much less interest, drew out their money and bought the Treasury notes.

"Hence the home builders discovered that 'the Treasury's unavoidable financing activities are draining money out of the very institutions on which we must rely for mortgage credit.' And they concluded that if the Treasury isn't permitted to meet the going interest rates in the long-term market, where it can spread its debt around, 'we are all going to suffer severely.'

"So there you are. Those who refused to let the Treasury deal sensibly with the realities of the marketplace have brought about the very thing they professed they would avoid."

THE LIBERAL Democrats now are saying that, because in recent weeks interest rates generally have shown a tendency to decline, this is a vindication of their viewpoint. But the effects of the blow dealt to the Treasury in its power to handle borrowings flexibly will not be so easily removed.

The present decline is temporary, and it may even be the precursor of a downward trend in business due to the frustrations in homebuilding.

Sen. Prescott Bush, (R-Conn), Republican, a former investment banker, told the Senate Tuesday that the business world sees this problem as non-political. He added:

"I say to my friends across the aisle that they're a new set of gamblers. They're speculating with the national credit. It's a reckless thing that they do. They're speculating with this issue because they think they've got a hot political issue. It is most dangerous. I beg them to drop this and give the Treasury a free hand."

Conservative Democrats agree with Sen. Bush, but the so-called "liberals" seem bent on interfering with the Treasury's operations —something that could spell economic trouble for America at a fateful time in its history.

In The Springtime

By Truman Twill

Poetry-wise, what happens in the springtime is that young men's fancies lightly turn to thoughts of love. Tennyson said so.

But around this part of the country, young men don't wait for springtime. There is spring love, but it's no better than summer romances, the bitter-sweet passions of autumn, or the crispy, crackly affairs of winter.

What happens in the springtime is that the bottom falls out of the secondary roads and this gives a driver who learned his steering linkage in the earlier days of the automobile a chance to be a kid again until the patchwork gang gets busy.

The only difference between the earlier days and these later days is the addition to the secondary roads of tertiary roads that are worse than the secondaries.

The tertiaries are in the suburbs where streets were laid out and formalized with pie-crust surfaces that fall to pieces in the first frost and grow progressively worse until they are impassable by spring.

These are a revived challenge to a driver who grew up in an era when chuckhole dodging was a requirement for operating an automobile. A new generation of drivers growing up in an era of superhighways turns off the supers on to roads that would have terrified their great grand-parents.

The only net advance in three generations is that road builders no longer rely absolutely on the probability that mud and slime will dry out by the middle of May to make a firm surface. Today, road builders augment mud with cinders, gravel, slag and glutinous mixtures of grit and gunk.

Moreover, automobile builders have improved their product with systems of suspension that do not rely absolutely on the probability that a packet of steel spring leaves will absorb the impact of a chuckhole a foot deep. Automobiles have better suspension systems, better tires and better construction.

The way the bottom falls out of the roads each March reflects the American credo that half a road is better than none. For every Appian Way that has been built in this country, there are several hundred thousand leveled-off surfaces that fall to pieces once a year.

A driver is challenged to see how many chuckholes can be dodged while maintaining reasonable speed—a game of visual calculation in which the operator's eye is pitted against a crazy-quilt pattern of disintegration.

To the loser goes a bump on the head, a broken car and a sense of failure. To the winner goes the satisfaction of outwitting the hazards of disintegration temporarily, though knowing that the next stretch of chuckholes and right-angle ruts may be his Waterloo.

Poets will never rhapsodize about it, but it's a more common human experience than letting fancies lightly turn to thoughts of love when the world sinks into the primordial ooze of springtime. Alfred Tennyson had a cramped notion of what really happens in springtime. Young men, middle-aged men and old men—we all dodge chuckholes.

Odd Facts

The total value for new construction for 1959 was $54.3 billion. This was a gain of 11 per cent over the previous year. Largest gain in building activity was in home building. With rising sales, building product and equipment manufacturers continue to increase their investment in newspaper advertising. Last year, for example, advertising expenditures in newspapers for automatic heating were 36.1 per cent more than 1958.

Today's flow of new products is at an all-time high. Processors of convenience foods spent over $100 million in 1959 in research to develop more and better items. To introduce and maintain sales of all types of grocery products, the food industry invested an estimated $154.3 million in newspaper advertising last year.

The marriage rate continues to boom. This means increased interest in home buying and home furnishings. Manufacturers of housing equipment and supplies know newlyweds read newspapers. That's why they increased their national advertising in newspapers to an estimated $29.7 million in 1959.

Get The Facts, Sen. Young

Ohio's junior senator, Stephen M. Young, should have picked up enough wisdom on his way to seniority in years to know the difference between a shotgun and a rifle when he draws a bead on a public issue.

His blast in the Senate against President Eisenhower's request for increased rates for first class mail became a shotgun assault when he said the Post Office Department's deficit could be blamed on a "virtual government subsidy amounting to almost 750 million dollars to newspapers, magazines and business groups."

If Sen. Young had used a rifle instead of a shotgun, he would have said that newspapers have gone on record repeatedly that they are willing to pay whatever it costs the Post Office Department to handle the copies of their publication sent through the mail and that they believe they now are doing this, with something to spare.

They want the Post Office Department to use realistic bookkeeping that will show the actual cost of service, instead of fast-shuffle bookkeeping that shifts deficits from one type of service into a catch-all deficit which then can be blamed on the whipping boys of politicians who find it profitable to take out their spite on newspapers, magazines and businessmen.

A large volume of statistical facts on what it actually costs the Post Office Department to handle various classes of mail has been put together by American Newspaper Publishers Assn. There are no secrets about the newspaper industry's point of view. It wants to pay the Post Office Department everything it owes. It does not want to pay more than it owes — and it does not want politicians to make shotgun charges that newspapers are being subsidized by the government. If anything, it's the other way around.

Chief and foremost among post office free loaders are senators, representatives and other public employes who use the franking privilege to distribute mail.

An Act Of Heroism

Acts of heroism such as that displayed by two Wellsville brothers during a fire Tuesday night merit special recognition.

The fact that three occupants of the house had fled the scene earlier in no way detracts from the bravery of Charles and Andrew Turick, who risked their own lives in an effort to save those believed trapped in the flames.

It was a courageous thing which the Turicks did and it is pleasing to have the opportunity to commend two more district residents for being ready to lend a helping hand in time of need.

Mushroom-Shaped Punctuation

The least surprising thing that could happen before the end of March, now that time is running out on delayed signs of spring, would be a nuclear explosion in the People's Republic of China.

The National People's Congress meets before the end of the month. This would be an ideal time for the Communist Chinese to punctuate their growing military importance with a mushroom-shaped cloud, signifying they had joined the international nuclear club under Russian sponsorship.

A member of the Indian Parliament, Dr. Raghuvira, has predicted the place will be Urumchi, capital of Sinkiang Province, and the time will be March 28. His prediction has been listened to carefully because of his knowledge of Red China. He believes Red China has made more progress in nuclear work than France, which detonated its first nuclear device on Feb. 13.

A nuclear device is not a bomb. It is the last stage of development before the development of a bomb. The stage can be reached by any nation willing to spend the money and time required to join the nuclear club —about 100 million dollars and five years, according to the National Planning Assn. The association reports that China is one of 11 nations capable of making nuclear weapons.

There is nothing exclusive about the nuclear club. There are no secret passwords, no secret grips, no mysterious ceremonials. The possibilities of danger are being multiplied every time another member joins; it is one more group of authorized mortals with the power to set off atomic warfare with one wrong order based on one bit of misinformation.

If Red China joins, there will be no room for any illusion about nuclear energy in responsible hands. There could be no more irresponsible hands on earth than the hands of the aggressors who started the Korean War and never ended it.

If bursitis is making your life bleak after too much snow shoveling;

If your fuel bill is in a higher orbit than most of the hardware fired from Cape Canaveral;

If you are tired of snow inside your shoes and down your collar;

If your winter overcoat is beginning to look like something that went to Moscow and back with Napoleon;

If you feel about the prospect of spring the way Noah felt when he was waiting for the dove to come back;

If your heart aches with pity whenever you think of the beating your automobile has taken for the last six weeks;

If you are toying with the idea of asking the Air Force to fly over and drop food and medical supplies on the lonely outpost of civilization you are trying to maintain;

If the figures on your ledger show the effect of the latest springtime lease on life in human memory;

If you are sitting in a snug farm kitchen wondering when, if ever, you can get at the plowing;

If everything in your life has been switched around for the worse because temperatures have been lower than usual and the snow higher;

Keep your chin up.

This is now an historic winter— a landmark in the climatic recollections of every person who is surviving it. It will rank with the great floods, the big snows and the big winds of all time — back there in '60, the year the weather suddenly went from good to bad, then from bad to worse and stayed worse for 40 days, 40 nights and then some.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Federal controls of drinking on airplanes are in force on domestic and foreign trips. Tipsy passengers get no booze; drinking from a flask will be prohibited and there will be a limit of two drinks served except on overseas flights. Hostesses must now constitute "YHE" (you've had enough) corps. They must be private eyes, expert sniffers and judges of curious facial expressions.

Girls will be in a tough spot handling "wild-booze-yonder boys" who like to come in on a wing and a skin full.

Airplane drinker can be stubborn. He thinks he is earthbound when he comes aboard with one of his martinis missing. If he has not made a pest of himself by the time of takeoff he is sure the plane is earthbound.

New rules are okay but they overlook the fact alcoholic capacities differ. Many a man can seem cold sober when really he's close to the point of becoming a menace, cloud by cloud. The switch from apparent sobriety to general nuisance can be so fast the most discerning hostess can only cry, "Brother, he took off faster than the plane."

Imagine what a chance she has to watch for vanishing flask at the very moment she is being signaled by a woman who wants a pillow, a mother who seeks a pill for the kids and a gent who demands full data on the plane's position.

How can a hostess tell when a man has had enough to drink, when the police, courts and scientists can't?

What pixilated man is going to accept a woman's verdict on his condition? Isn't there every chance a hostess who says, "None of that" to a flask carrier at a New York takeoff will still be in argument as the plane comes in for a Frisco landing?

Nobody can convince this writer that federal, state, and city governments are against waste of money when they pour millions into some of the beach-filling projects presumably to halt erosion. Jobs we have seen have been poorly done, with the new beaches largely washed away in a short time. Beach building without suitable "groins" to prevent damage from the high seas is a waste of funds. Up in our neck of the woods, the results of a costly job done only a couple of years ago are largely invisible. It's all done by mirrors.

Nixon Seeks New York Backing

By Victor Riesel

Richard Nixon moved swiftly in and out of New York City last Wednesday but was there long enough to start a boom for Nelson Rockefeller.

Victor Riesel

That was a Rockefeller-for-Vice-President boom, of course. Nixon and his most sophisticated advisers in the big town discussed the contacts they've made and the conversations they've had with the Rockefeller "camp."

These have been intense, for the Nixon strategists are harassed by a nagging bit of history. Only one man — Harry Truman — has ever been elected President of the United States without carrying New York State, which has the heaviest labor concentration in the land. And it doesn't appear now that Nixon can take the region — not without Gov. Rockefeller's help.

They want Rockefeller tied right into the ticket — and they will whip up a draft movement which will blow more and more furiously as they roll into the heat of summertime Chicago.

AT THIS MOMENT, the governor has sent a very polite but grimly terse "no." His words were that he has no intention of surrendering a big office for a small office — namely the vice presidency.

Rockefeller is saying he's not being coy, he will not negotiate, he will not run.

This doesn't exactly leave Nixon in Diogenes' robes with a faltering lamp. There are alternative vice presidential candidates who could pull strongly in the state.

One is Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell, who is so much identified with New York that he can rip up his New Jersey passport.

Another is Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who lives in that glass house over by the East River, the U.N. Here the strategy is simple.

If the big presidential issue is domestic, Mitchell would be the better running mate. If it is international, Lodge would be the more logical man to get the nod.

Mitchell's handicap is his competence. He did his job too well. He ran interference for the vice president in the steel scrimmaging.

He set up the government committees which brought Nixon into personal contact with such AFL-CIO leaders as George Meany, Walter and Victor Reuther, Jim Carey and the powerful construction trades officials.

THERE WAS A MOMENT some weeks ago when they all sat around the same table. The labor people were under heavy public fire in the North for their failure to force the Washington, D. C., Electrical Workers Brotherhood to put Negroes to work.

The labor people retorted that it was really the fault of Nixon's Committee on Government Contracts. Nixon could have hurled the fight into the open with a charge that after all it was a local union which was keeping Negroes off the job.

Instead he said that he wouldn't hit the national labor leaders who had hit him earlier. He said that "everybody should be given a chance to work things out without a public fight. Simply to put the blame on anyone in labor, government or industry would be futile." He called for cooperation.

But labor continued to swat Nixon as though he were at the end of a fungo bat.

Only one union leader has declared for him. That's Morris Weissberger, head of the 9,000-member Sailors Union of the Pacific. This unit operates on the West Coast, with 15 of its 20 headquarters in California. S.U.P. support for the Republicans is traditional.

Politics being the most practical art of all, the Nixon people reckon they've gotten all the labor support they can round up. That's a telephone booth crowd.

If this is all Nixon's cooperation can gain from labor, his advisers say then why name Mitchell. That leaves Henry C. Lodge out front with Sen. Keating trotting along.

Talk Without Progress

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

In time the world—if relations between nations turn sour and savage again—may look back wistfully upon these days as the happy period of conversation without progress.

For months now the United States and the Soviet Union have been pretty much soft-pedaling their differences to avoid wrecking ahead of time the summit meeting May 16 between President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Whether they accomplish anything, besides talking, is doubtful. But at least while East and West are talking they're not hissing.

With the summit meeting still almost two months away Secretary of State Christian A. Herter already is trying to prepare the American people against disappointment. He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee this week:

"I'm very frank to admit that I'm not optimistic that the summit will produce very great results."

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) said it appears Eisenhower and Herter are going to the summit "without purpose, without plan, without hope of success." And Herter replied: "It's a gamble."

Herter summed up what seems to be the attitude—at this particular moment in history—when he said in a period of pushbutton war like this one it would be too risky not to sit down and talk.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, denied Wednesday that Gore was right in complaining the President and Herter were going to the summit without purpose, plan or hope of success.

But unless Eisenhower does go to the Paris meeting with some clear-cut ideas he may get a rude, shock from Khrushchev. The Russian seems to know ahead of time what he wants.

He can turn the summit into a propaganda victory for the Soviet Union if he makes proposals which have broad appeals and all the American government can do is hem and haw.

Khrushchev sounds like a man who has no doubts of what he wants at the summit. Within no time at all after arriving in France Wednesday he told President Charles de Gaulle the West must back down and sign a peace treaty with Germany.

This would require the West to recognize Communist East Germany as an independent nation. The West has stalled on this ever since the war. Its ally, West Germany, wants a unified Germany—not recognition of the Soviet idea that Germany should be permanently divided.

Khrushchev in France harped on another old theme: He wants an end to NATO and the Western European Union, both of which include West Germany as a member.

Since this is the last thing the United States wants, the Eisenhower-Khrushchev summit talks should be lively. But only a country boy with stars in his eyes at this moment can hope the talks will produce any solutions.

Political Sabotage

By David Lawrence

Party Bloc Interferes With Debt Management

While everybody is looking the other way at disarmament conferences and the gyrations of presidential candidates, a piece of political sabotage is going on in Washington that could be dangerous to the economy of the country in the immediate future.

David Lawrence

The sabotage consists of a deliberate interference in the Treasury Department's management of the public debt. The interference is coming from a group of so-called liberals in the Democratic party.

Whether it's partisan politics or sheer demagoguery, the fact is that the Treasury, which has the job of refunding billions of dollars of debt each year, is stymied by the refusal of the Democratic party in Congress as a whole to co-operate with the Republican President. This is a big price to pay for the privilege of having a divided government.

Certainly the right to determine what interest rates the public will pay for long-term or short-term securities belongs to the Treasury Department, which has to watch carefully the most complicated factors of the law of supply and demand in the credit markets of the country.

The Treasury feels out the market carefully and pays the rate it believes will attract investors.

But the Democrats in Congress have put up a roadblock. They insist that the Treasury may not pay more than 4¼ per cent for securities that mature more than five years hence but that the Treasury can offer as high a rate as it wishes for securities that are repayable in five years or less.

THIS MEANS that the Treasury is deprived of its power to deal effectively with a refunding of the tens of billions of dollars of the national debt that come due each year.

It is frustrating for a government which has so powerful an influence on world credit, and on interest rates throughout Europe especially, to find itself hampered in these delicate and vital financial transactions.

The damage, of course, is largely within the United States. Homebuilding is in for serious setbacks and this could affect the entire economy and be one of the factors that brings on an economic recession.

The National Association of Home Builders is worried. First it was against the interest change but now it has sent out a letter to its members urging all of them to write to their congressmen at once to give "strong support" to a change in the interest rate ceiling "at the earliest possible date."

Commenting on this, the "Wall Street Journal," in an editorial on Tuesday, says in part:

"When the Treasury was forced to borrow its billions on short-term notes alone, short-term interest rates went skyrocketing. Last fall the Treasury had to pay 5 per cent for notes maturing in less than five years. So, not unnaturally, people who had money in savings banks and building associations at much less interest, drew out their money and bought the Treasury notes.

"Hence the home builders discovered that 'the Treasury's unavoidable financing activities are draining money out of the very institutions on which we must rely for mortgage credit.' And they concluded that if the Treasury isn't permitted to meet the going interest rates in the long-term market, where it can spread its debt around, 'we are all going to suffer severely.'

"So there you are. Those who refused to let the Treasury deal sensibly with the realities of the marketplace have brought about the very thing they professed they would avoid."

THE LIBERAL Democrats now are saying that, because in recent weeks interest rates generally have shown a tendency to decline, this is a vindication of their viewpoint. But the effects of the blow dealt to the Treasury in its power to handle borrowings flexibly will not be so easily removed.

The present decline is temporary, and it may even be the precursor of a downward trend in business due to the frustrations in homebuilding.

Sen. Prescott Bush, (R-Conn), Republican, a former investment banker, told the Senate Tuesday that the business world sees this problem as non-political. He added:

"I say to my friends across the aisle that they're a new set of gamblers. They're speculating with the national credit. It's a reckless thing that they do. They're speculating with this issue because they think they've got a hot political issue. It is most dangerous. I beg them to drop this and give the Treasury a free hand."

Conservative Democrats agree with Sen. Bush, but the so-called "liberals" seem bent on interfering with the Treasury's operations —something that could spell economic trouble for America at a fateful time in its history.

But Democrats Are In Driver's Seat

Ohio GOP Given Chance To Regain Senate Reins

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With four-year terms, unexpired terms, bonus terms, and all . . . .

The Republicans have an outside chance to recapture control of the Ohio Senate in November, but the Democrats are sitting in the driver's seat. The Democrats have a solid block of carryover votes going in and—as the gamblers would say—the Republicans have theirs to get.

Next to your own city or village council, the Ohio Senate is the smallest and most free-wheeling legislative body which affects your daily life — often through your pocketbook. But, sometimes it isn't free-wheeling; it can be a stubborn group and stop a popular move cold in its tracks.

Control of the Ohio Senate is in no way as simple a matter as party dominance in the Ohio House where every member must stand for re-election every two years.

Senators serve four-year terms. Approximately half of them are elected every two years. On top of that, there is a complex formula, affected by the 10-year census, which regulates the size of the Senate—from a low point of 33 members to a peak of 38. That formula is called "apportionment." It is intended to give each senatorial district its fair share of representation during the course of a 10-year period.

Last year, the Senate had 33 members with one senatorial district having a "bonus" member under the apportionment formula laid down by the Ohio Constitution. That bonus district loses its extra member next year, but six other districts pick up one bonus member each. That means the Senate in the 104th General Assembly meeting next January will have the maximum possible number of members—38.

That the Republicans have their work cut out for them in their bid to wrest Senate control from the Democrats in November is illustrated by the fact the Democrats have 10 carryover members who still have two years left in their four-year terms. The Republicans have only four carryovers.

The battlegrounds where Senate control apparently will be decided are Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Canton, Lima and northwestern Ohio, the Lorain - Mansfield - Ashland area and the east-central district made up of such smaller cities as Cambridge, Coshocton, Dover - New Philadelphia, Mount Vernon, Mount Gilead and Wooster.

In order to achieve a bare majority of 20 votes, the GOP must hold all its present seats, including the one from which Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (Muskingum) resigned to run for Congress, and:

Defeat Democratic Sen. Danny D. Johnson of New Philadelphia with the probable Republican nominee, Kenneth F. Berry, veteran House member, and pick up a bonus seat in the same district.

Retain the seat now held by Republican Sen. Charles H. Mosher of Oberlin who is running for Congress and pick up a bonus seat.

The only alternative to any one of those victories would be a comeback by former Republican Sen. Fred Danner of Akron over freshman Democratic Oliver Ocasek, a high school principal. Ocasek defeated Danner in 1958 by fewer than 400 votes.

Failure of the GOP to win one of the seats listed above would throw the Senate into a 19-19 tie. Failure in two of the races listed would give the Democrats a 20-18 majority.

In between the carryover Senators and the doubtful races listed here are about a dozen senators believed by most political observers to be in the "sure winner" categories.

Democratic Sens. Ed Witmer of Canton and Stephen R. Olenick of Youngstown appear to be safe. Cuyahoga County will elect three senators and they probably will be Democrats. Sens. John J. Corrigan, Eugene J. Sawicki and Frank J. Svoboda are candidates for renomination and re-election, but Senate Clerk Joseph W. Bartunek, former minority leader in the Senate, appears likely to knock off one of the trio in the primary May 3. Democrats appear a cinch to pick up the bonus seat in the normally Democratic 20th - 22nd District made up of Belmont, Harrison, Jefferson and Columbiana counties.

It's a good bet that the GOP will re-elect Sens. Fred Hoffman and Gordon Renner in Cincinnati, Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville, J. E. Simpson of Forest and elect veteran House member Robert E. Zeller of Zanesville to succeed Moorehead.

Employes Due Offers

Painter Wins $20,000 In Suing Jack Webb

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Damages of $20,000 were awarded Wednesday to a studio painter who sued Jack Webb for $100,000.

Louis E. Shields, 51, said he suffered back and neck injuries at Republic Studios in 1957 when struck by a sound stage door that Webb was opening.

Immigration Service Seeks Extra Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The immigration service was reported planning to ask today for an extra half million dollars for expanded operations against sneak flights between Florida and Cuba.

U.S. investigators declined to rule out the possibility that the American private plane forced down in Cuba Monday was really on a Cuban-inspired mission designed to embarrass the United States.

Machine-gun bullets from a Cuban army patrol forced a low-flying U.S.-based private plane to make an emergency landing Monday near Matanzas. Cuban authorities said the small craft was headed for a rendezvous with a former colonel in ex-president Fulgencio Batista's police force. The fliers contended they were only on a fishing trip.

The two Americans involved were Howard Louis Rundquist of San Rafael, Calif., and Miami, and William J. Shergales, West Hollywood, Fla. Rundquist, wounded in the right foot when he tried to flee, was taken to a Matanzas military hospital. Shergales was held at military headquarters in Havana.

An immigration service spokesman said the Senate Appropriations Committee would be asked for a supplemental fund of $500,000 for stepped-up enforcement against illegal Florida-Cuba flights.

Last fall the service put an extra 100 agents on the job in Florida to stop sneak flights to Cuba.

But Democrats Are In Driver's Seat

Ohio GOP Given Chance To Regain Senate Reins

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With four-year terms, unexpired terms, bonus terms, and all . . . .

The Republicans have an outside chance to recapture control of the Ohio Senate in November, but the Democrats are sitting in the driver's seat. The Democrats have a solid block of carryover votes going in and—as the gamblers would say—the Republicans have theirs to get.

Next to your own city or village council, the Ohio Senate is the smallest and most free-wheeling legislative body which affects your daily life — often through your pocketbook. But, sometimes it isn't free-wheeling; it can be a stubborn group and stop a popular move cold in its tracks.

Control of the Ohio Senate is in no way as simple a matter as party dominance in the Ohio House where every member must stand for re-election every two years.

Senators serve four-year terms. Approximately half of them are elected every two years. On top of that, there is a complex formula, affected by the 10-year census, which regulates the size of the Senate—from a low point of 33 members to a peak of 38. That formula is called "apportionment." It is intended to give each senatorial district its fair share of representation during the course of a 10-year period.

Last year, the Senate had 33 members with one senatorial district having a "bonus" member under the apportionment formula laid down by the Ohio Constitution. That bonus district loses its extra member next year, but six other districts pick up one bonus member each. That means the Senate in the 104th General Assembly meeting next January will have the maximum possible number of members—38.

That the Republicans have their work cut out for them in their bid to wrest Senate control from the Democrats in November is illustrated by the fact the Democrats have 10 carryover members who still have two years left in their four-year terms. The Republicans have only four carryovers.

The battlegrounds where Senate control apparently will be decided are Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Canton, Lima and northwestern Ohio, the Lorain - Mansfield - Ashland area and the east-central district made up of such smaller cities as Cambridge, Coshocton, Dover - New Philadelphia, Mount Vernon, Mount Gilead and Wooster.

In order to achieve a bare majority of 20 votes, the GOP must hold all its present seats, including the one from which Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (Muskingum) resigned to run for Congress, and:

Defeat Democratic Sen. Danny D. Johnson of New Philadelphia with the probable Republican nominee, Kenneth F. Berry, veteran House member, and pick up a bonus seat in the same district.

Retain the seat now held by Republican Sen. Charles H. Mosher of Oberlin who is running for Congress and pick up a bonus seat.

The only alternative to any one of those victories would be a comeback by former Republican Sen. Fred Danner of Akron over freshman Democratic Oliver Ocasek, a high school principal. Ocasek defeated Danner in 1958 by fewer than 400 votes.

Failure of the GOP to win one of the seats listed above would throw the Senate into a 19-19 tie. Failure in two of the races listed would give the Democrats a 20-18 majority.

In between the carryover Senators and the doubtful races listed here are about a dozen senators believed by most political observers to be in the "sure winner" categories.

Democratic Sens. Ed Witmer of Canton and Stephen R. Olenick of Youngstown appear to be safe. Cuyahoga County will elect three senators and they probably will be Democrats. Sens. John J. 42 Attend Concluding Session Of Instruction In Safe Boating

Forty-two attended the eighth and final public safe boating course held Wednesday night at City Hall by Flotilla 7 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

An examination will be held next Wednesday at 8 p. m. at City Hall by Victor Carosiello of Wellsville, division public relations officer for the auxiliary. Those passing the test will be presented certificates.

Division Vice Capt. R. W. Parkins of McKeesport was in charge of last night's session. He displayed illegal life jackets and explained how a Coast Guard-approved life jacket may be identified.

He pointed out the boater is responsible for keeping the necessary safety equipment in good condition. He showed a radar reflector that can be used on small pleasure craft and demonstrated how red flares can be used. The flares have a nail in the bottom for sticking into the ground. By drilling a hole in the end of a paddle handle, the nail can be inserted and the flare held out over the water and away from the boat.

Parkins also displayed first aid kits recommended for use in boats and showed how to use the newly developed mouth-to-mouth resuscitator tube. Other equipment demonstrated included life lines, fenders, horns, stern and bow lights, water lights and fire extinguishers.

Paul Shively, division training officer, spoke on the danger of fires on boats and preventive measures. Parkins demonstrated the burning points of various fuels such as diesel oil, crude oil, kerosene, alcohol and gasoline.

He demonstrated the explosive force of gasoline by firing a small cannon with the fuel and also showed how gasoline fumes can travel inside an engine compartment.

Symington

campaigning for the nomination.

He listed these as:

1. Negotiation with the Soviet Union from a position of strength, including a worldwide "good trader—good neighbor" policy. He called for "a better foreign service, a more realistic economic development both at home and abroad and an effective campaign to tell the truth about America."

2. A public investment program in education, health, slum clearance, highways, water control and benefits for the elderly and disabled.

3. A program to "reverse the present trend toward the elimination of the family-size farmer, and help him attain a standard of living comparable with other Americans."

4. Programs "which would guarantee to every citizen equal rights and equal opportunity."

Symington said the cost of such programs could be met by eliminating waste in the management of government agencies.

Symington's formal announcement had been planned for the May Missouri State Democratic Convention. His action in moving up the date was interpreted generally by politicians as reflecting some alarm on his part about the progress Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) is making in the nomination contest.

Johnson, who passed up the chance to withdraw his name from the Oregon primary ballot, does not seem to be overly worried about the reports of a Kennedy surge. In Johnson's book, things are working out just about as he expected.

It is Johnson's obvious intention to stick closely to his job of managing the Senate as its majority leader. He has a speaking engagement next month in Salt Lake City, Utah, and may add another or two.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), who is battling Kennedy in Wisconsin, said he doesn't think Symington's formal entry will change anything in the nomination contest. He said if Symington doesn't choose to enter any of the primaries except that in Oregon "that's his decision."

As for himself, Humphrey said he is going to continue to point out the difference between his and Kennedy's voting records, particularly on the farm issue.

Humphrey said that while Kennedy may be ahead in Wisconsin he doesn't think the polls reflect the closeness of the contest.

The Minnesota senator took some comfort from an AFL-CIO scoring of presidential hopefuls' votes in Congress over more than a dozen years. He said it upheld his belief that he will get more labor votes than Kennedy.

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education listed Humphrey, Kennedy and Symington as voting 100 per cent its way on labor-management legislation. It gave Johnson a 45.9 per cent rating and Vice President Richard M. Nixon only 6.7 per cent on his votes as House and later a Senate member.

certain privileges, were not participating in the rebellion. Officials believe five of them may have been forced into the captured deputy warden's office with the others.

Officials believe the convicts were ready to ease up on their original requests.

They demanded their freedom, a state car to drive them away and three state hostages to assure their getaway. The demands were rejected.

Commissioner Hampton told newsmen he could not agree to such terms but would "wait and see" what happened. Hampton is the state's executive director of prisons.

Hampton, Warden Lynn Bomar, Safety Director Greg O'Rear and other officials talked off and on throughout the night with the convicts. A Catholic priest and a lawyer also attempted to persuade the pair to surrender.

Authorities said the .45 caliber automatic and a .22 caliber pistol apparently were smuggled into the prison in recent days.

Rivera was sentenced for robbing of a motel at Dover, Tenn., in 1956. He also was serving a concurrent term for shooting a state highway patrolman during his effort to flee after the robbery.

Prison records show Farra is a former mental patient at the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane. He escaped, was recaptured several days later and then was placed in the penitentiary.

The hostages include Assistant Deputy Warden Carl Burns, four guards, two transportation officers, a prison telephone operator, Bean, two women employes, the wife of a convict and the prisoners who apparently took no part in the revolt.

Taxes

court said it was, as required by statute.

In the Heinz matter, the Supreme Court held that Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax applies to advertising material distributed without separate charge by the wholesaler to retailers as a sales aid. Retailers were not assessed in such instances.

Collections ranging to about a million dollars from other wholesalers operating in a similar manner have been opened by the move, Kosydar said.

In the Findlay restaurant case, Buddies contended it was not subject to a sales tax on food consumed on the premises because purchasers ate it at the opposite end of a dining room from the cafeteria counter. It was Eastman Kodak Co. controlled the dining room. The food company operated in the Kodak plant.

The worst tornadic storms on record — a group of 60 occurring Feb. 19, 1884 — took the largest toll on record: 800 lives. The greatest property loss was recorded June 7-9, 1953, with damages of $93,230,840 suffered in Michigan, Ohio and the New England states.

As for himself, Humphrey said he is going to continue to point out the difference between his and Kennedy's voting records, particularly on the farm issue.

Humphrey said that while Kennedy may be ahead in Wisconsin he doesn't think the polls reflect the closeness of the contest.

The Minnesota senator took some comfort from an AFL-CIO scoring of presidential hopefuls' votes in Congress over more than a dozen years. He said it upheld his belief that he will get more labor votes than Kennedy.

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education listed Humphrey, Kennedy and Symington as voting 100 per cent its way on labor-management legislation. It gave Johnson a 45.9 per cent rating and Vice President Richard M. Nixon only 6.7 per cent on his votes as House and later a Senate member.

certain privileges, were not participating in the rebellion. Officials believe five of them may have been forced into the captured deputy warden's office with the others.

Officials believe the convicts were ready to ease up on their original requests.

They demanded their freedom, a state car to drive them away and three state hostages to assure their getaway. The demands were rejected.

Commissioner Hampton told newsmen he could not agree to such terms but would "wait and see" what happened. Hampton is the state's executive director of prisons.

Hampton, Warden Lynn Bomar, Safety Director Greg O'Rear and other officials talked off and on throughout the night with the convicts. A Catholic priest and a lawyer also attempted to persuade the pair to surrender.

Authorities said the .45 caliber automatic and a .22 caliber pistol apparently were smuggled into the prison in recent days.

Rivera was sentenced for robbing of a motel at Dover, Tenn., in 1956. He also was serving a concurrent term for shooting a state highway patrolman during his effort to flee after the robbery.

Prison records show Farra is a former mental patient at the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane. He escaped, was recaptured several days later and then was placed in the penitentiary.

The hostages include Assistant Deputy Warden Carl Burns, four guards, two transportation officers, a prison telephone operator, Bean, two women employes, the wife of a convict and the prisoners who apparently took no part in the revolt.

court said it was, as required by statute.

In the Heinz matter, the Supreme Court held that Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax applies to advertising material distributed without separate charge by the wholesaler to retailers as a sales aid. Retailers were not assessed in such instances.

Collections ranging to about a million dollars from other wholesalers operating in a similar manner have been opened by the move, Kosydar said.

In the Findlay restaurant case, Buddies contended it was not subject to a sales tax on food consumed on the premises because purchasers ate it at the opposite end of a dining room from the cafeteria counter. It was Eastman Kodak Co. controlled the dining room. The food company operated in the Kodak plant.

The worst tornadic storms on record — a group of 60 occurring Feb. 19, 1884 — took the largest toll on record: 800 lives. The greatest property loss was recorded June 7-9, 1953, with damages of $93,230,840 suffered in Michigan, Ohio and the New England states.

Police Report Minor Thefts

Three cases of petty thievery and an attempt to break into a store's display window were being investigated today by East Liverpool police.

Wilson Smith, 615 Monroe St., told police at 8:50 this morning 3 bicycles were stolen from the garage at his home sometime Wednesday night or early today. The loss included a boy's model with 26-inch wheels and 2 girl's bicycles, one with 24-inch wheels and one with 20-inch wheels, he said.

A thief pried the lid off an automatic change-making machine sometime last night at the Night & Day Automatic Laundry at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., taking an undetermined amount of money, officers said. The theft was reported at 7:08 a. m. A few weeks ago, thieves wrecked two change-making machines at the same business place.

An unsuccessful attempt was made overnight to jimmy a lock on a display window at the Jenny Shop, 109 E. 5th St., owned by Jennie Shops, Inc., of New York City, police said. However there was no loss or damage.

Officers said a piece of wire apparently was used to attempt to force entry to a display of children's clothing. The display section is in the center of the store vestibule.

John L. Wooten, 1014 St. Clair Ave., told police a complete taillight assembly was stolen from his 1951 model car. He said he discovered the theft early today while the car was parked on E. 6th St.

10,290 Signed To Vote In City

East Liverpool has 10,290 voters qualified for the May 3 primaries, the Columbiana County Election Board said today after closing registrations Wednesday night at 9.

Ninety-six registered in an 11th-hour rush yesterday, pushing the gross total to 10,301, but 11 other voters notified the board they have moved to non-registration township areas outside the city, which cut the net figure to 10,290, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, explained.

Forty-three more voters recorded transfers — changes of address —making a total of 99 since Jan. 1.

O'Hanlon pointed out the current registration total is down 431 from the 10,721 who were qualified for the general election last November. In its annual yearend check, the board dropped the names of 691 for failure to vote at least once in the preceding 2 years. That cut the list to 10,030, so the current total represents a net gain of 260 since Jan. 1, O'Hanlon pointed out.

Of the 691 dropped Jan. 1, only 88 took advantage of a new law that permitted them to re-register by mail. The 88 are included in the 260 registered since the first of the year.

O'Hanlon commented that the last-minute rush kept the board's staff busy throughout the day. In the last three days of the registration drive, the board maintained a 12-hour schedule—from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. When the final day of enrollment opened yesterday morning, O'Hanlon predicted total registration would hit 10,300. He missed it by only one under the final total of 10,301.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercises Should Help, Not Harm

Some popular exercises actually do more harm than good. A daily trio can flatten the abdomen, pare down hips and nip in the waist . . . or it can make the stomach more prominent, sway the back, and cause hips to bustle out rearward.

By Ida Jean Kain

That well-known favorite taken from lying flat on back on the floor and slowly and painfully raising, then lowering the feet — you know that one? That exercise is supposed to be flattening as all get out; you can even feel it toning your stomach muscles. Actually, it works out like this: the abdominal muscles are not hip-joint muscles, so the first part the exercise — lifting the feet slowly off floor — is not performed by the abdominals.

IT IS ONLY after the feet are well up from the floor — about 12 inches — that the abdominals are brought into the action. And since in the raising and lowering of the legs, the small of the back tends to come up off the floor, this makes for swayback. Certainly swayback is nothing you want to work for!

The proper way to do that exercise would be to start with the feet elevated to a low bench or hassock. From that position raise the legs, keeping knees still. The abdominals come into action from that part of the movement on. Follow by bringing alternate knees vigorously to chest. This exercise movement tonically contracts the abdominals as they act as secondary assistants to the flexors.

From the same position of feet elevated on low bench, follow through with this toner: Lift hips slowly and at the same time pull strongly up-and-in with the lower abdominal muscles. Lift only to a straight line, do not arch the back. Hold. Release, contract with the abdominal muscles and lift again.

For good measure, follow with an exercise that reaches all three sets of muscles, the abdominals, the waist, and the hips.

Concentrate the twist at the waistline by keeping shoulders on the floor. Come back to center, and thrust leg back to floor. Bring left knee toward chest, swing across and try to touch knee point to floor at far side. Repeat 6 to 10 times.

Finish with this streamliner: Lie on back, arms back on floor beyond head, legs straight down. Movement: Get a firm grip on middle muscles, swing the arms forward and come to a sitting position . . . without lifting feet from floor. If you can't keep feet on floor, anchor them under a heavy piece of furniture. Later do this same exercise with hands clasped back of neck . . . if you can.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercises Should Help, Not Harm

Some popular exercises actually do more harm than good. A daily trio can flatten the abdomen, pare down hips and nip in the waist . . . or it can make the stomach more prominent, sway the back, and cause hips to bustle out rearward.

By Ida Jean Kain

That well-known favorite taken from lying flat on back on the floor and slowly and painfully raising, then lowering the feet — you know that one? That exercise is supposed to be flattening as all get out; you can even feel it toning your stomach muscles. Actually, it works out like this: the abdominal muscles are not hip-joint muscles, so the first part the exercise — lifting the feet slowly off floor — is not performed by the abdominals.

IT IS ONLY after the feet are well up from the floor — about 12 inches — that the abdominals are brought into the action. And since in the raising and lowering of the legs, the small of the back tends to come up off the floor, this makes for swayback. Certainly swayback is nothing you want to work for!

The proper way to do that exercise would be to start with the feet elevated to a low bench or hassock. From that position raise the legs, keeping knees still. The abdominals come into action from that part of the movement on. Follow by bringing alternate knees vigorously to chest. This exercise movement tonically contracts the abdominals as they act as secondary assistants to the flexors.

From the same position of feet elevated on low bench, follow through with this toner: Lift hips slowly and at the same time pull strongly up-and-in with the lower abdominal muscles. Lift only to a straight line, do not arch the back. Hold. Release, contract with the abdominal muscles and lift again.

For good measure, follow with an exercise that reaches all three sets of muscles, the abdominals, the waist, and the hips.

Concentrate the twist at the waistline by keeping shoulders on the floor. Come back to center, and thrust leg back to floor. Bring left knee toward chest, swing across and try to touch knee point to floor at far side. Repeat 6 to 10 times.

Finish with this streamliner: Lie on back, arms back on floor beyond head, legs straight down. Movement: Get a firm grip on middle muscles, swing the arms forward and come to a sitting position . . . without lifting feet from floor. If you can't keep feet on floor, anchor them under a heavy piece of furniture. Later do this same exercise with hands clasped back of neck . . . if you can.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My sister-in-law, who was always a pretty fast number, gave birth to a baby boy last week. Both this sister-in-law and her husband have dark eyes; in fact their eyes are almost black. The baby has blue eyes. There's not a single person on either side of the family who has blue eyes.

What does this sound like to you? —MISS INQUISITIVE.

Dear Miss Inquisitive: Write to me again in two months. Almost all babies' eyes appear to be blue for the first six weeks.

Sports Car Faddist

Dear Ann: My husband has gone goofy over sports cars. I'm just about ready to tell him to go sleep in the garage if he puts the cars before his own family.

He has a good business and we don't want for anything but it's the time I resent. He spends hours monkeying with the cars (he has two now). He reads everything on sports cars that he can lay his hands on.

He'll go half way across the state to see a sports car race. He can't take the kids along because only two can get in the car with him and the other two would have to stay home.

The other evening the dog was sick and my husband couldn't even drive him to the vets because both cars were torn down.

He doesn't have any big faults like smoking, drinking or swearing but this car business is getting my goat. What is your opinion?—GLADYS.

Dear Gladys: You ought to be happy your husband has a four-wheeled pastime instead of a two-legged one. Sports cars are a wonderful hobby and many women are just as interested in them as men.

There are more plusses to your marriage than minuses. Count your blessings and don't be a flat tire.

Not Making The Grade

Dear Ann: Much has been said and written about cheating in academic circles. In our school the angle shooters don't bother to cheat. They do just as well buttering up the teachers.

It's a well known fact the students don't take the subjects, they take the teachers. Certain male teachers are known to be duck soup for pretty girls. I don't mean to imply anything immoral, it's just common knowledge that they are easy on the cuties.

And then there's one woman teacher who favors the good-looking, athletic meatheads who are slightly stupid but do fine because they call her "Mom."

The battle cry from the faculty is: Don't worry so much about grades—it's ATTITUDE and getting along with people that counts!"

So they encourage kids to apple polish instead of study. Do you think this is fair?—NO SIGNATURE. (I Want To Be Graduated.)

Dear No Signature Who Wants to Be Graduated: You sound like a kid who can't make it either way.

Most people know that a little banana oil is an effective lubricant for the machinery of human relations. But there's no substitute for a mixture of midnight oil and perspiration.

A pleasing personality and a winning way is an asset not only in school but everywhere. But personality alone won't work if you can't deliver the goods. If you aren't doing very well, Bub, I suggest you smile a little more —both at the teachers and the text books.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Prejudices Usually Start At Home

Many of you parents can remember hearing of the Ku Klux Klan, whose purpose was to hate, frighten and persucute Jews, Catholics and Negroes. Aware of its kinship to Nazism, the public virtually smashed it in the 1930's. Not long ago, a highly respected citizen told my wife and me of the time when he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan in a rural area of Pennsylvania where we now live. His true story was hard for us to believe. You remember reading of the unspeakable atrocities of the Nazis against innocent, defenseless Jews, hundreds of thousands of them, during the Hitler regime.

By Garry Meyer.

NOW THESE awful memories are brought back to us as we read of the desecration of Jewish synagogues and cemeteries by disfiguring them with the swastika and other symbols of hate — in Germany, England and the United States.

Even if these expressions of hate should be the work of teenage vandals, these boors must have been fed with hate in their homes, where some of the parents call themselves Christians.

If Jesus were to walk again on this earth, His heart certainly would be saddened to see this kind of hate, and to know that it ever arose in any Christian home.

Regardless of our religious preference or philosophy of life, we parents, even those of us with only a spark of decency and respect for the preciousness of others, need to make sure that our children never hear in our homes a single word of hate, ridicule or unkindness about any person different from us.

IF WE HEAR such from our own children let us rebuke them sternly. If we hear it from a guest in our house, let us speak our disapproval or divert the conversation.

We need to guard ourselves and our children now only against overt utterances of hate, but also against jokes or slighting remarks indicating feelings of superiority to other persons.

And in our church, clubs and social groups let us prove ourselves champions of genuine democracy and avowed foes of any kind of bigotry. Let us commend newspaper editors, TV and radio commentators and clergymen who strongly denounce persons or groups that further any kind of hate, and who denounce insidious sinners and enemies of manknid.

LET US GO further and, by all we say and do in our homes, constantly strive to build in our children kind ways and attitudes of understanding and appreciation of all persons different from ourselves in race, nationality or religion.

Let us who call ourselves Christians remember that, when Jesus went about on this earth doing good, He considered every human being very precious. Jesus never met an unimportant person.

We Christians have a challenge now to prove that our religion really is founded on the gospel of love.

Lorain Resident Sues Chicago After Incident

CHICAGO (AP) — John W. Degan Jr., 31, of Lorain, Ohio, has sued the city of Chicago following an incident last Nov. 17 when he became trapped on a rising drawbridge.

The tugboat skipper's car was stalled on the bridge, when whistles blew and bells rang and the structure began to rise. Two passengers with him fled the auto.

Degan was hoisted 125 feet into the air over the Calumet River. He clung to a railing as his auto crashed to the street below. Degan hung on and rode the bridge down.

Obstructing Justice Charged

Alleged Bucket Invoice Presser Indictment Basis

CLEVELAND (AP) — Alleged mutilation of an invoice listing recipients of $100 gift champagne buckets is the basis of a federal grand jury indictment against William Presser, 52, president of the Ohio Teamsters Union Conference.

The invoice was among records the Senate Rackets Committee subpoenaed March 21, 1958.

The grand jury indictment, returned Wednesday, charged Presser with obstructing justice by partly destroying the invoice, which allegedly listed eight persons to whom the champagne buckets were to be sent as Christmas presents in 1955.

Presser is charged also with concealing and withholding from the committee an envelope with the notation "Christmas list" and a memorandum containing a list of names with items of merchandise or amounts of money written next to them.

Conviction on the charge could bring a maximum penalty of a $5,000 fine and five years in prison.

Presser was out of town and not available for comment Wednesday night. His attorney, William J. Corrigan, said Presser will appear in U.S. District Court here when a time for arraignment on the indictment is set.

Frank J. Kiernan, special attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice, said the Senate committee had served on Presser a subpoena calling on the Teamsters Council to produce its records for the period from Jan. 1, 1949 to Jan. 1, 1958.

The committee charged that when the invoice came into its possession the lower part, allegedly containing the eight names, had been torn off. The indictment alleges the mutilation took place between Sept. 9 and 13, 1958.

Testimony before the committee late in 1958 identified three recipients of champagne buckets as Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman; former U.S. Sen. George H. Bender, and a "Connell," later identified by the committee as James C. Connell, U.S. district judge here.

Connell and Bender denied receiving buckets, but Bliss said he had.

The "Christmas list" was the basis for Presser's conviction in Washington last Feb. 2 for contempt of Congress. Presser was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and fined $100 on that conviction, which he is appealing.

The contempt charge stemmed from Presser's refusal to answer when asked if any of the records had been destroyed. He cited the Fifth Amendment. However, the court held that by answering one question concerning the records he had opened the way for further questioning.

Temple Is Happy Now With Tribe Following Trade

By CHUCK SUCH
Review Special Correspondent

TUCSON, Ariz.—John Temple, spunky second baseman who spent eight seasons with the Cincinnati Reds before being traded to the Cleveland Indians, is becoming accustomed to the idea of playing with another team and is making new friends by leaps and bounds.

Temple had spent his entire big league career with Cincinnati and didn't like the idea of leaving that club.

How does he feel about it now?

"I'm really happy to be with the Indians now," Temple said at the Tribe's Tucson training camp. "It was difficult getting used to the idea of going to another team. I liked Cincinnati.

"I definitely think we can win the pennant this year and I sure would like to play with a championship ball club.

"If this team can win the pennant, we'll keep it for a few years. This is one of the best young teams I've seen," Temple continued.

"I know Chicago will be playing under a strain. And when you play under strain, even the bottom teams knock you off. It just works that way.

"This is absolutely the easiest spring training camp I've ever attended. At Cincinnati, there was so much stress on great physical conditioning. We had Terry Brennan leading us in rigid calisthenics. Well, those calisthenics are all right for football where you have different muscles to condition. They're not all right for baseball.

"Push-ups and other such exercises bind your muscles. For baseball players, spring should be a time to get your legs in shape by a lot of running and your arm in shape by throwing.

"I find there are few sore arms and no pulled muscles in this camp.

"Spring is time to get your eye on the ball and for pitchers to work on their stuff. Things shouldn't be rushed. It should be the way it is here and I believe it's the right way."

John's wife, Rebekah, and 8-year-old son, Michael, will join him in Cleveland after the school term ends in June.

"We'll continue to make our home in Tampa, Fla., but we'll live in Cleveland during the baseball season," John said.

"I think I'll like the Cleveland ball park. I should hit better there than I did in Cincinnati. I try not to hit fly balls and a big park like Cleveland's should be to my advantage. The bigger the ball park, the better I like it."

John picked the San Francisco Giants to win the pennant in his native National League.

"They've added two good pitchers without weakening their club. Billy Loes, whom they got from Baltimore, should help. So should their new ball park," Temple said.

"I think Cincinnati has a chance at that pennant. It has strengthened its team a lot.

"I like our chances best of all. We have a fine infield. That Bubba Phillips is the best third baseman in baseball. He's like a cat on the field and he has a great arm, too. He should help Woodie Held, too.

"Vic Power roams all over at first base. There's no doubt about his ability. We have some young pitchers, but they're mighty fine young pitchers."

In addition to being one of the best defensive second basemen in the game, Temple has a lifetime batting average of .291.

Last year his average was .311.

Temple stands 5 feet 10 and weighs 158 pounds. He's 30 years old and is described by members of the National League as a player who gives you 100 per cent effort at all times.

"When the going gets toughest, that's when you'll appreciate Temple," a National League manager stated recently.

He's already convinced his teammates that he will be a kingpin in the Tribe's new and improved defensive look for 1960.

Ohio State Showed Perfect Timing In Winning NCAA

(This is the last of a three-part series on the Big Ten athletic situation.)

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is far from becoming a drifting athletic derelict despite the most trying times in its influential 65-year history.

The current tug-of-war between the general conservatism of faculty control—with its dogged pursuit of overemphasis—and the aggressiveness of some athletic departments—who maintain there is no overemphasis to pursue—has been at best resolved in a draw.

No violence will be done to the status quo. But the tug-of-war may wring out a more objective approach to the problem by both sides.

Ohio State's winning of the post-season NCAA basketball championship came with ironic timing—when the conference was having second thought about the ban on all post-season athletic contests, from fencing to football.

When the Big Ten recently killed resumption of a Rose Bowl football contract, directors rebelliously voted to end post-season competion in all sports.

On the surface, their argument was one of consistency in thinking: That there was discrimination against football, a sport that had to carry the entire financial load of the athletic program.

But basically, they wanted to jolt the governing faculty groups into a reappraisal of post-season football.

The post-season ban now is being presented before each Big Ten school for decision on how its faculty representatives are to vote at the May meetings in East Lansing, Mich.

Already the presidents of Ohio State, Illinois, and Minnesota have urged that such a ban not be considered. These three schools, plus Northwestern and Wisconsin, recently voted to defeat an agreement to continue Big Ten participation in the Rose Bowl. Thus, their stand against a post-season ban on all sports is significant and gives rise to the feeling that the ban will be overridden.

But, at the same time, has there been a reappraisal of post-season football, which is what the athletic directors desire?

It appears unlikely.

President David Dodd Henry of Illinois keynoted high level thinking when he said that most competition was considered to run continuously as a regular season. But there is more than a month lapse between the end of the football season and the Rose Bowl game—a period critics think disrupts the educational program.. There is no such time lag in other sports.

Athletic directors, generally, feel that their proposal of a post-season ban on all sports was a gamble that paid off to the extent that it may result in a less critical approach to the football question in the future. The eventuality of another Big Ten Rose Bowl contract remains far from dead.

Big Ten presidents hold their regular meeting next month. There are observers who say they must be viewed as the powers in conference athletic leadership. They may try for a more cohesive effort that may be reflected in the crucial institutional voting in May. But their stand in all probability never will be made public.

One question they probably will attempt to reconcile is the accusation that Big Ten athletics in several schools have not been placed fully within faculty control.

If this arises, there is bound to be a deeper understanding of the charges from outside the conference that there was an attempt by athletic directors last November for a grab of power. At that time, the directors obstensibly got an equal vote with faculty representatives.

Their vote was there, all right, but the faculty men had the virtual restraint of veto on all matters of basic policy and could screen any items for institutional consideration.

Power And Tight Infield Defense Marks Cleveland

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—"Our club has the potential to score a lot of runs and our infield defense is improved 100 per cent."

That's the appraisal of Joe Gordon, returning as manager of the Cleveland Indians that finished second in the American League last year.

In the power department for the Tribe this season, Gordon feels Rocky Colavito has the potential to hit 40 to 50 home runs, not a bad prediction since he clubbed 41 in 1958 and 42 last year. Also, Joe feels Tito Francona, who hit .363 last year with 20 homers should hit 20 to 25 this campaign and Woodie Held add another 25 to 35.

"Both Vic Power and Johnny Temple can hit .300 and John Romano potentially is a good power hitter," surmises the pilot.

The infield should line up with Power at first, ex-National leaguer Temple at second, either Held or veteran George Strickland at shortstop and Bubba Phillips at third.

* * *

Gordon looks over a big bunch of pitchers this spring trying to decide which to keep on the varsity. Heading the youthful list might be Gary Bell and Jim Perry who won 16 and 12 in 1959. Both are 23-year-old right-handers.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant posted a 10-7 mark last year.

Gordon also looks at some veterans and a group of youngsters hoping to make the grade. Veterans are Bob Lemon, Jack Harshman, Johnny Briggs, Ernie Johnson and Leo Kiley. Rookies include Carl Thomas, Wynn Hawkins, Dick Stigman and Bobby Locke.

Colavito and Francona have two of the outfield jobs nailed with Jimmy Piersall expected to open in center although ex-pro football halfback Carroll Hardy gives him a run for the spot.

6 Cagers Named To County Squad

THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1960 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12

Wellsville, Salem Place Two On Team

More honors were heaped upon district basketball stars when the Columbiana County Coaches Association announced its 1960 All-County cage team, Wednesday at Leetonia.

Heading the list was Kenny Cunningham of East Liverpool who was a unanimous choice for the first team.

Wellsville and Salem placed two each on the first squad. Wellsville's pair included Bob Kiggans and Franklin Jackson while Salem put Dave Hunter and Dan Kirchbaum on the team.

Jim Summer of United was the other first team choice as the coaches picked 6 players on the first team and 6 on a second unit.

Eleven were picked on the honorable mention list. They are: Mike Durbin, Beaver Local; Kenny Miller, East Liverpool; Rich Harrold, Columbiana; Jim Hartshorn, East Palestine; Jim Olnhausen, Fairfield-Waterford; Jim Franko, Leetonia; Chuck Faust, Lisbon; Jim Lehwald, Salem, Frank Shagnot, United; Phil Baldwin, Wellsville, and Jim Kerry, Salineville.

3 Stanton Cagers Gain All-Eastern Honors

Don "Wilt" Spires, Bob Mills and Bill Chetock of Stanton Local High of Irondale have been accorded "particular honorable mention" on the 1960 All-Eastern Ohio Class A basketball squad. The trio missed by only a few berths on the first team. Mills, a sophomore, also was honorable mention on the All-Ohio list.

APPEARANCES are deceiving. The man in the helmet, Braves catcher Del Crandall, is the runner who gets back to first safely in Wednesday's game as Kansas City's first baseman Dorell Herzog dives back to the bag with ball. The throw went from catcher to second to first. Umpire Nestor Chylak calls Crandall safe. (UPI Telephoto)

Temple Strikes Winning Blow In Tribe's 6-4 Win

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Temple, the star second baseman acquired by the Cleveland Indians from Cincinnati, showed Wednesday why he has a reputation of a clutch hitter deluxe.

Temple's bases-loaded single in the eighth inning plated the winning runs in Cleveland's 6-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants at Tucson.

Billy Loes had purposely passed Vic Power, who had been murdering the Giants all spring, and faced Temple with the bases loaded, two out and the National Leaguers holding a 4-3 lead.

Temple's single brought in two runs. A bases-loaded walk to Tito Francona gave the Tribe an extra run.

Southpaw Herb Score, originally scheduled to pitch against the Red Sox Saturday, faces the Chicago Cubs here today instead.

Ten rookies were sent to the Indians' minor league base at Daytona Beach, Fla., Wednesday.

The manpower cut did not include Walter Bond, giant 22-year-old outfielder whose camp hitting has been outstanding.

Rookie infielders Mike De La Hoz of Havana and Steve Jankowski of Cleveland also survived the first cut and may survive the second. Manager Joe Gordon said both players look more than promising.

Among seven hurlers departing for Florida is Bill Fazekas of Lorain, Ohio, who Gordon believes "may have the best arm of the lot."

Fazekas could become a good one, Gordon said, but he has to gain additional confidence.

Cincy Defeats Senators, 4-3

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—It's a little early to boast of such things but, thanks to a 4-3 victory Wednesday over the Washington Senators, Cincinnati's Reds have a two-game winning streak in the records—Grapefruit League records, that is.

"They'll have a go at Kansas City on their home lot tonight, their second after - dark game of the training season.

To Manager Freddie Hutchinson, there was more to the victory in Orlando than pencil - on - paper showed. For one thing, Eddie Kasko, in his first appearance since injuring his right hand in a practice slide, looked like a solid contender for third base against Willie Jones who finished the 1959 season there after moving in from Cleveland.

Nursing the injured digit hasn't dampened Kasko's spirit. "I am not worried," he said. "I've been hitting good. I'm confident I can hit and I know I've got to hit to win the job at third."

Ohio U. To Play Bucks In Basketball Dec. 1

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University will meet Ohio State in basketball Dec. 1, the first time since 1938, officials said at a sports banquet here.

The game will mark the dedication of Grover Center, an arena seating 6,800.

At the banquet Wednesday night Howard Jolliff, 6-foot-6 Canton senior, was named the Bobcats' most valuable player. Chosen by his teammates, Jolliff scored 400 points in the 1960 season as his team took the Mid-American cage crown and posted a 17-8 over-all record.

Play Resumes Next Wednesday

Coca-Cola, Curran's Win In Little Potter Tourney

Coca-Cola and Bob Curran's completed the semi-final field by coming up with victories in the Little Potters League tournament Wednesday at the Broadway Gym.

The semi-final round will be played next Wednesday with Hune Co. meeting Frank Dawson's at 4:15 and Coca-Cola battling Curran's at 5 p. m. The championship game is set for April 1.

Coca-Cola stayed alive in the tourney by handing Potters Bank a 24-15 setback. Rick Forzano was the sparkplug of the Coca-Cola five by netting eight points, including 4-for-4 from the foul line.

Len Walker was high point man of the contest with 12 of his teams 15 points but it came in a losing cause.

Curran's, which wrapped up the league championship last week, turned in one of the highest scores in the Little Potters League this season by blasting McNutt's, 36-9.

Three of Curran's starters shared in the attack. Bill Simms had his best night in Little Potter competition with 12 markers while Jimmy Jones and Vern Smith each fired in eight points.

Wotring's three points were tops for McNutt's.

Farrell Tops DuBois, State Finals Next

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Bob Zimpfer and Jim Darrow, Bowling Green State University athletes, were honored by The Associated Press at a sports banquet here Wednesday night.

Temple Is Happy Now With Tribe Following Trade

By CHUCK SUCH
Review Special Correspondent

TUCSON, Ariz.—John Temple, spunky second baseman who spent eight seasons with the Cincinnati Reds before being traded to the Cleveland Indians, is becoming accustomed to the idea of playing with another team and is making new friends by leaps and bounds.

Temple had spent his entire big league career with Cincinnati and didn't like the idea of leaving that club.

How does he feel about it now?

"I'm really happy to be with the Indians now," Temple said at the Tribe's Tucson training camp. "It was difficult getting used to the idea of going to another team. I liked Cincinnati.

"I definitely think we can win the pennant this year and I sure would like to play with a championship ball club.

"If this team can win the pennant, we'll keep it for a few years. This is one of the best young teams I've seen," Temple continued.

"I know Chicago will be playing under a strain. And when you play under strain, even the bottom teams knock you off. It just works that way.

"This is absolutely the easiest spring training camp I've ever attended. At Cincinnati, there was so much stress on great physical conditioning. We had Terry Brennan leading us in rigid calisthenics. Well, those calisthenics are all right for football where you have different muscles to condition. They're not all right for baseball.

"Push-ups and other such exercises bind your muscles. For baseball players, spring should be a time to get your legs in shape by a lot of running and your arm in shape by throwing.

"I find there are few sore arms and no pulled muscles in this camp.

"Spring is time to get your eye on the ball and for pitchers to work on their stuff. Things shouldn't be rushed. It should be the way it is here and I believe it's the right way."

John's wife, Rebekah, and 8-year-old son, Michael, will join him in Cleveland after the school term ends in June.

"We'll continue to make our home in Tampa, Fla., but we'll live in Cleveland during the baseball season," John said.

"I think I'll like the Cleveland ball park. I should hit better there than I did in Cincinnati. I try not to hit fly balls and a big park like Cleveland's should be to my advantage. The bigger the ball park, the better I like it."

"They've added two good pitchers without weakening their club. Billy Loes, whom they got from Baltimore, should help. So should their new ball park," Temple said.

"I think Cincinnati has a chance at that pennant. It has strengthened its team a lot.

"I like our chances best of all. We have a fine infield. That Bubba Phillips is the best third baseman in baseball. He's like a cat on the field and he has a great arm, too. He should help Woodie Held, too.

"Vic Power roams all over at first base. There's no doubt about his ability. We have some young pitchers, but they're mighty fine young pitchers."

In addition to being one of the best defensive second basemen in the game, Temple has a lifetime batting average of .291.

Last year his average was .311.

Temple stands 5 feet 10 and weighs 188 pounds. He's 30 years old and is described by members of the National League as a player who gives you 100 per cent effort at all times.

"When the going gets toughest, that's when you'll appreciate Temple," a National League manager stated recently.

He's already convinced his teammates that he will be a kingpin in the Tribe's new and improved defensive look for 1960.

Ohio State Showed Perfect Timing In Winning NCAA

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is far from becoming a drifting athletic derelict despite the most trying times in its influential 65-year history.

The current tug-of-war between the general conservatism of faculty control—with its dogged pursuit of overemphasis—and the aggressiveness of some athletic departments—who maintain there is no overemphasis to pursue—has been at best resolved in a draw.

No violence will be done to the status quo. But the tug-of-war may wring out a more objective approach to the problem by both sides.

Ohio State's winning of the post-season NCAA basketball championship came with ironic timing—when the conference was having second thought about the ban on all post-season athletic contests, from fencing to football.

When the Big Ten recently killed resumption of a Rose Bowl football contract, directors rebelliously voted to end post-season competion in all sports.

On the surface, their argument was one of consistency in thinking: That there was discrimination against football, a sport that had to carry the entire financial load of the athletic program.

But basically, they wanted to jolt the governing faculty groups into a reappraisal of post-season football.

The post-season ban now is being presented before each Big Ten school for decision on how its faculty representatives are to vote at the May meetings in East Lansing, Mich.

Already the presidents of Ohio State, Illinois, and Minnesota have urged that such a ban not be considered. These three schools, plus Northwestern and Wisconsin, recently voted to defeat an agreement to continue Big Ten participation in the Rose Bowl. Thus, their stand against a post-season ban on all sports is significant and gives rise to the feeling that the ban will be overridden.

But, at the same time, has there been a reappraisal of post-season football, which is what the athletic directors desire?

It appears unlikely.

President David Dodd Henry of Illinois keynoted high level thinking when he said that most competition was considered to run continuously as a regular season. But there is more than a month lapse between the end of the football season and the Rose Bowl game—a period critics think disrupts the educational program.. There is no such time lag in other sports.

Athletic directors, generally, feel that their proposal of a post-season ban on all sports was a gamble that paid off to the extent that it may result in a less critical approach to the football question in the future. The eventuality of another Big Ten Rose Bowl contract remains far from dead.

Big Ten presidents hold their regular meeting next month. There are observers who say they must be viewed as the powers in conference athletic leadership. They may try for a more cohesive effort that may be reflected in the crucial institutional voting in May. But their stand in all probability never will be made public.

One question they probably will attempt to reconcile is the accusation that Big Ten athletics in several schools have not been placed fully within faculty control.

If this arises, there is bound to be a deeper understanding of the charges from outside the conference that there was an attempt by athletic directors last November for a grab of power. At that time, the directors obstensibly got an equal vote with faculty representatives.

Their vote was there, all right, but the faculty men had the virtual restraint of veto on all matters of basic policy and could screen any items for institutional consideration.

Power And Tight Infield Defense Marks Cleveland

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—"Our club has the potential to score a lot of runs and our infield defense is improved 100 per cent."

That's the appraisal of Joe Gordon, returning as manager of the Cleveland Indians that finished second in the American League last year.

In the power department for the Tribe this season, Gordon feels Rocky Colavito has the potential to hit 40 to 50 home runs, not a bad prediction since he clubbed 41 in 1958 and 42 last year. Also, Joe feels Tito Francona, who hit .363 last year with 20 homers should hit 20 to 25 this campaign and Woodie Held add another 25 to 35.

"Both Vic Power and Johnny Temple can hit .300 and John Romano potentially is a good power hitter," surmises the pilot.

The infield should line up with Power at first, ex-National leaguer Temple at second, either Held or veteran George Strickland at shortstop and Bubba Phillips at third.

Gordon looks over a big bunch of pitchers this spring trying to decide which to keep on the varsity. Heading the youthful list might be Gary Bell and Jim Perry who won 16 and 12 in 1959. Both are 23-year-old right-handers.

Gordon also looks at some veterans and a group of youngsters hoping to make the grade. Veterans are Bob Lemon, Jack Harshman, Johnny Briggs, Ernie Johnson and Leo Kiley. Rookies include Carl Thomas, Wynn Hawkins, Dick Stigman and Bobby Locke.

Colavito and Francona have two of the outfield jobs nailed with Jimmy Piersall expected to open in center although ex-pro football halfback Carroll Hardy gives him a run for the spot.

Temple Strikes Winning Blow In Tribe's 6-4 Win

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Temple, the star second baseman acquired by the Cleveland Indians from Cincinnati, showed Wednesday why he has a reputation of a clutch hitter deluxe.

Temple's bases-loaded single in the eighth inning plated the winning runs in Cleveland's 6-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants at Tucson.

Billy Loes had purposely passed Vic Power, who had been murdering the Giants all spring, and faced Temple with the bases loaded, two out and the National Leaguers holding a 4-3 lead.

Temple's single brought in two runs. A bases-loaded walk to Tito Francona gave the Tribe an extra run.

Ten rookies were sent to the Indians' minor league base at Daytona Beach, Fla., Wednesday.

The manpower cut did not include Walter Bond, giant 22-year-old outfielder whose camp hitting has been outstanding.

Rookie infielders Mike De La Hoz of Havana and Steve Jankowski of Cleveland also survived the first cut and may survive the second. Manager Joe Gordon said both players look more than promising.

Among seven hurlers departing for Florida is Bill Fazekas of Lorain, Ohio, who Gordon believes "may have the best arm of the lot."

Fazekas could become a good one, Gordon said, but he has to gain additional confidence.

Wellsville, Salem Place Two On Team

More honors were heaped upon district basketball stars when the Columbiana County Coaches Association announced its 1960 All-County cage team, Wednesday at Leetonia.

Heading the list was Kenny Cunningham of East Liverpool who was a unanimous choice for the first team.

Wellsville and Salem placed two each on the first squad. Wellsville's pair included Bob Kiggans and Franklin Jackson while Salem put Dave Hunter and Dan Kirchbaum on the team.

Jim Summer of United was the other first team choice as the coaches picked 6 players on the first team and 6 on a second unit.

3 Stanton Cagers Gain All-Eastern Honors

Don "Wilt" Spires, Bob Mills and Bill Chetock of Stanton Local High of Irondale have been accorded "particular honorable mention" on the 1960 All-Eastern Ohio Class A basketball squad. The trio missed by only a few berths on the first team. Mills, a sophomore, also was honorable mention on the All-Ohio list.

Ohio U. To Play Bucks In Basketball Dec. 1

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University will meet Ohio State in basketball Dec. 1, the first time since 1938, officials said at a sports banquet here.

The game will mark the dedication of Grover Center, an arena seating 6,800.

At the banquet Wednesday night Howard Jolliff, 6-foot-6 Canton senior, was named the Bobcats' most valuable player. Chosen by his teammates, Jolliff scored 400 points in the 1960 season as his team took the Mid-American cage crown and posted a 17-8 over-all record.

Cincy Defeats Senators, 4-3

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—It's a little early to boast of such things but, thanks to a 4-3 victory Wednesday over the Washington Senators, Cincinnati's Reds have a two-game winning streak in the records—Grapefruit League records, that is.

"They'll have a go at Kansas City on their home lot tonight, their second after - dark game of the training season.

To Manager Freddie Hutchinson, there was more to the victory in Orlando than pencil - on - paper showed. For one thing, Eddie Kasko, in his first appearance since injuring his right hand in a practice slide, looked like a solid contender for third base against Willie Jones who finished the 1959 season there after moving in from Cleveland.

Nursing the injured digit hasn't dampened Kasko's spirit. "I am not worried," he said. "I've been hitting good. I'm confident I can hit and I know I've got to hit to win the job at third."

APPEARANCES are deceiving. The man in the helmet, Braves catcher Del Crandall, is the runner who gets back to first safely in Wednesday's game as Kansas City's first baseman Dorell Herzog dives back to the bag with ball. The throw went from catcher to second to first. Umpire Nestor Chylak calls Crandall safe. (UPI Telephoto)

Golf Machine Developed To Check Drives

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Count down: 5-4-3-2--boom!"

Cape Canaveral? Another missile shot into orbit? Nope, just the basement of Golf House, 40 E. 38th St. Manhattan — and another golf ball shot into nowhere.

"This is not just a silly whim," said Joseph Dey, executive director of the USGA, with obvious concern. "With the development of longer hitters in golf and the manufacturers' attempts to improve the golf ball, we are faced with the threat of making thousands of golf courses obsolete."

The latest USGA machine is the third contrived by the USGA since 1947 to check and place limits on the flight of a golf ball.

This one—a rather classy looking collection of pipes and bolts no bigger than Junior's short wave set—is designed to measure the ball's "resiliency factor." A companion machine in the basement of Golf House—bigger and less intricate—measures the initial velocity. Another machine, located at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y., tests the actual flight of the ball.

The latest machine shoots the ball by compressed nitrogen through a barrel against a surface equivalent to the face of a wooden golf club. Electronic eyes record the result of the impact.

"The deal for present-day golf courses is a ball which can be hit by the average long-hitting pro no more than 240 yards on the carry with a 20-yard flat roll," said Dr. William Gordon, who cooked up the latest monstrosity. "We know the manufacturers can make a ball which will carry 50 yards farther. This we must prevent."

Celts, Lakers Can Clinch Division Titles Tonight

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, mindful that Philadelphia's Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain is no longer a cripple, buckle down to the business of trying to win their fourth straight National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division playoffs tonight. The teams square off at Philadelphia in the sixth game of the best-of-seven series.

And the St. Louis Hawks, whose coach Ed Macauley, faces the possibility of losing his job if they are eliminated, try to stave off the Minneapolis Lakers, who lead 3-2 in the Western finals.

The Celts, also holding a 3-2 lead, won all of their games while Chamberlain was hampered with a badly bruised hand incurred last Friday night in a fight with Boston's Tom Heinsohm. But Wilt returned to full-time action Tuesday night with 50 points that kept the Warriors in contention.

Minneapolis is putting on a repeat performance of 1959's surprising finish. They won their third game Tuesday night in St. Louis, as happened a year ago, and now hope to repeat with the clinching victory before the home folks—also like last year.

College Basketball Stars Gather For Olympic Trials

NEW YORK (AP) — A university all-star basketball team, loaded with four All-Americas and backed by other outstanding players, today was picked by two coaches as the probable winner of the Olympic trials at Denver, March 31-April 2.

Coaches George Smith of Cincinnati and Lou Rossini of New York University, after looking over the collection of stars, predicted the squad would beat Ohio State's NCAA champions and six other teams at Denver. The tourney is being run to determine the 12-man squad which will play in the Olympics at Rome, Aug. 25-Sept. 11.

All-Americas Darral Imhoff of California, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Jerry West of West Virginia, and Tony Jackson of St. John's (NY) team with such luminaries as Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech and Tom Sanders of NYU. Pete Newell, retiring coach at California, will coach the team.

Five to seven of the winning squad at Denver will be picked for the Olympic team. The remaining players will be selected from the other teams in the tournament.

The other teams competing for the Olympic spot will be two small college outfits representing the NCAA and the NAIA, an all-star armed service team, the Barlesville (Okla) Oilers as winners of the National Industrial League and two other teams to be selected from the AAU tournament in process at Denver.

Palmer Choice In Florida Golf

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer was a fairly solid favorite as the $40,000 DeSoto Lakes Open Golf Tournament started today over the long, beautiful, but very tough new DeSoto Lakes course.

The 6,902-yard, par 35-36—71 yard layout was in excellent condition. There were few trees, and a minimum of rough. But the length of the course put a premium on long, accurate driving, and that's where the husky pro from Ligonier, Pa., excels.

Others mentioned as strong contenders were Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif.; George Bayer of Lemont, Ill.; and Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla.

And there always is the unpredictable Sam Snead, who has not been playing much tournament golf lately.

3 Teams Gain Top 10 Group At ABC Firing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three teams crashed into the top ten standings of the American Bowling Congress tournament with heavy pinfalls Wednesday night.

A rousing 3096 series by A&A Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., was a sound rebuttal to those who have said conditions in this 57th ABC tourney will not permit high scores. The A&A showing (1060-1056-980) gave them first place in the open division and further embarrassed the high society of bowling who have failed so wretchedly.

More proof that hefty scores are available on the Sports Arena lanes was provided by Jack Baum and Andy Hudoba of Youngstown, Ohio, who gained the doubles lead with 1358. Hudoba supplied 680 and Baum 678.

Although they had no national reputation, A&A is no minor league quintet. Last year they finished ninth in the ABC, and only a week ago the team rolled a 3474 series, best league performance this season in Michigan.

Frank Cieslik, 28, a bowling ball salesman, pulled the team up by its bootstraps as he fired the best individual series thus far in the team event, 233-246-218—697.

Umpires Trained At Reformatory

BORDENTOWN, N. J. (AP) — Bordentown Reformatory for Men is producing trained, certified baseball umpires.

The umpires are being trained by William J. Medve, director of athletics and recreation at the reformatory for men 16 to 30 years old.

Two weeks ago the National Baseball Congress, Wichita, Kan., issued the program a charter in its 1960 National Assn. of Umpires. Medve thinks it may be the only prison umpire school to win such recognition.

Medve holds two classes a week and the club members officiate at institution contests and games with semipro teams and service teams.

All games are "home" games, of course.

A player is ineligible for rookie of the year honors in the American Hockey League if he has played more than 20 games in the AHL or National Hockey League.

Frick Is Set To Rule White Trade As Void

BOSTON (AP) —"I'm in the process of retiring. I haven't changed my mind one iota."

With those words catcher Sammy White apparentlly ended a Boston-Cleveland baseball squabble that reached as high as Commissioner Ford Frick.

In Florida, Frick said that if the veteran receiver does retire he will void a trade that kicked up the biggest hassle of spring training.

It started March 16 when the Red Sox traded White and infielder Jim Marshall to Cleveland for catcher Russ Nixon. White promptly announced he would retire.

Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane said the deal was off and demanded the return of Nixon. Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris refused.

Angry words flew until the matter reached Frick.

"If White has retired," Frick said, "it is a simple matter of applying the rule which states that a deal shall be void if a player retires between the date of his assignment and 30 days of the club's regular season."

Frick Shouts 'Hands Off' To Branch Rickey

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said today he would not permit any pooling of players by the Class D Western Carolina League for the proposed third major the Continental League.

"I will not permit this operation the way Branch Rickey (Continental League president) has outlined it," said Frick. "It would be a complete evasion of all the player limits."

Rickey's league does not plan to operate until 1961, but it would work with the Western Carolina League this year, signing players and distributing them to the minor league clubs according to an announced working agreement.

"If the Western Carolina League wanted to operate with working agreements between its clubs and clubs already in organized baseball, such as Denver, Toronto, Dallas and Jacksonville (owned by Houston's Continental League club) that could be worked out," said Frick. "But they cannot pool players or make agreements with clubs not yet in organized baseball.

"Of course, they can organize and operate in any way they please but not within the structure of organized baseball."

Frick said Rickey had written him a letter, outlining his plans of operation.

"I told all these things to Rickey in a letter," said Frick. "But apparently he has not chosen to make it public. I have had no reply from him."

Ben Wilson Appointed Warren Football Coach

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Harding High School here has hired Ben Wilson, head football coach at Sandusky High, as its new grid mentor. Wilson signed a three-year contract.

Harding's former coach was Gene Slaughter, now an assistant backfield tutor at Ohio State University.

Lorain Coach Quits

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Al O'Neil, head football coach at Lorain St. Mary High School the last three years, resigned Wednesday night, saying "money reasons" caused the move. O'Neil, a University of Dayton graduate, joined St. Mary's staff in 1956 as an assistant and became head coach in 1957.

Two Yank Hurlers Come Close To Perfect Contest

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of rookie right-handers —Johnny James and Bill Bethel —pitched a no-hitter for the New York Yankees against the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday and just missed a perfect game in chalking up a 4-0 shutout.

A base on balls to Johnny Callison in the first inning gave the Phillies their only base runner. The walk came on a 3-1 pitch by James who worked the first five innings and fanned three. Bethel struck out five in his 4-inning stint. James was with Richmond of the International League last year and Bethel with Omaha of the American Assn.

In both Florida and Arizona, the pitchers were really in form Wednesday.

Daniels also went seven for Pittsburgh, but the right-hander gave up four hits and three runs in the Pirates' 6-4 victory over St. Louis at Fort Myers.

Podres held Baltimore runless as the world champions stopped the Orioles 3-1 at Vero Beach, and Nuxhall checked Washington with two runs in the Reds' 4-3 triumph at Orlando.

A new left-hander, Jake Striker, limited Detroit to one run and four hits in the first five innings as the Chicago White Sox tripped the Tigers 7-3 at Sarasota.

Billy Monbouquette didn't get the start, but he turned in a spectacular relief job for the Boston Red Sox. The flashy right-hander faced 13 Chicago Cubs, retired 12 of them and struck out six, including five in succession. He also received credit for the 5-2 victory at Mesa.

Ex-Yankee Gives Tips On Stadium Left Field

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—"If anybody wants to play left field at Yankee Stadium, he ought to do what I did," Gene Woodling advised with a grin. "Get friendly with his pitchers, tell 'em it's tough out there and not to let anybody hit any your way."

The former New York Yankee, now working for the Baltimore Orioles, had been told that Roger Maris, new man in left for the Yankees, planned to ask him about left field at the stadium. Woodling played left during his six Yankee years through 1954.

It was suggested that left field in the stadium, with its haze and sun during day games might be the toughest left in the majors.

"That sun out there, I'll tell you I had it timed to the minute just how long it would give me trouble."

"You'd get into the eighth or ninth inning of a tough game, and you'd just hope nobody hits it your way.

"You have to learn to play the ball off that railing, too. And there's a place they store a hose out there. It's got ridges on it about this high," added Woodling, holding up his thumb and forefinger like a guy advertising a cigarette filter.

"I must have been the only man in the country who felt sorry for Norm Siebern when he had that day out there in the 1958 World Series.

Smokey Burgess of Pittsburgh and George Crowe of St. Louis hold the major league record for pinch-hit home runs. Each have hit 10.

Golf Machine Developed To Check Drives

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Count down: 5-4-3-2--boom!"

Cape Canaveral? Another missile shot into orbit? Nope, just the basement of Golf House, 40 E. 38th St. Manhattan — and another golf ball shot into nowhere.

The U. S. Golf Assn. today took the wraps off a $40,000 contraption designed to keep golf balls from traveling so far.

It's an ironic twist: pros and duffers alike bust a stomach muscle trying to get more distance on their drives. And the golf fathers hire scientists to cut them down.

"This is not just a silly whim," said Joseph Dey, executive director of the USGA, with obvious concern. "With the development of longer hitters in golf and the manufacturers' attempts to improve the golf ball, we are faced with the threat of making thousands of golf courses obsolete."

The latest USGA machine is the third contrived by the USGA since 1947 to check and place limits on the flight of a golf ball.

This one—a rather classy looking collection of pipes and bolts no bigger than Junior's short wave set—is designed to measure the ball's "resiliency factor." A companion machine in the basement of Golf House—bigger and less intricate—measures the initial velocity. Another machine, located at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y., tests the actual flight of the ball.

The latest machine shoots the ball by compressed nitrogen through a barrel against a surface equivalent to the face of a wooden golf club. Electronic eyes record the result of the impact.

If the ball shows too much resiliency—more than 75 per cent of its potential, say—it is declared illegal.

"The deal for present-day golf courses is a ball which can be hit by the average long-hitting pro no more than 240 yards on the carry with a 20-yard flat roll," said Dr. William Gordon, who cooked up the latest monstrosity. "We know the manufacturers can make a ball which will carry 50 yards farther. This we must prevent."

Canadiens Open Quest For Fifth Straight Crown

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens start their quest for a fifth straight Stanley Cup — emblematic of world hockey supremacy — tonight when they open a best-of-seven semifinal series with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The Detroit Red Wings took a 1-0 lead in their series with Toronto Wednesday night, edging the Maple Leafs 2-1.

Montreal, also winner of three straight NHL regular season titles will pit its Vezina Trophy-winning goalie, Jacques Plante against Chicago's Glenn Hall, who finished second in the duel for league goal-tending honors.

Celts, Lakers Can Clinch Division Titles Tonight

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, mindful that Philadelphia's Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain is no longer a cripple, buckle down to the business of trying to win their fourth straight National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division playoffs tonight. The teams square off at Philadelphia in the sixth game of the best-of-seven series.

And the St. Louis Hawks, whose coach Ed Macauley, faces the possibility of losing his job if they are eliminated, try to stave off the Minneapolis Lakers, who lead 3-2 in the Western finals.

The Celts, also holding a 3-2 lead, won all of their games while Chamberlain was hampered with a badly bruised hand incurred last Friday night in a fight with Boston's Tom Heinsohm. But Wilt returned to full-time action Tuesday night with 50 points that kept the Warriors in contention.

Minneapolis is putting on a repeat performance of 1959's surprising finish. They won their third game Tuesday night in St. Louis, as happened a year ago, and now hope to repeat with the clinching victory before the home folks—also like last year.

College Basketball Stars Gather For Olympic Trials

NEW YORK (AP) — A university all-star basketball team, loaded with four All-Americas and backed by other outstanding players, today was picked by two coaches as the probable winner of the Olympic trials at Denver, March 31-April 2.

Coaches George Smith of Cincinnati and Lou Rossini of New York University, after looking over the collection of stars, predicted the squad would beat Ohio State's NCAA champions and six other teams at Denver. The tourney is being run to determine the 12-man squad which will play in the Olympics at Rome, Aug. 25-Sept. 11.

All-Americas Darral Imhoff of California, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Jerry West of West Virginia, and Tony Jackson of St. John's (NY) team with such luminaries as Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech and Tom Sanders of NYU. Pete Newell, retiring coach at California, will coach the team.

Five to seven of the winning squad at Denver will be picked for the Olympic team. The remaining players will be selected from the other teams in the tournament.

The other teams competing for the Olympic spot will be two small college outfits representing the NCAA and the NAIA, an all-star armed service team, the Barlesville (Okla) Oilers as winners of the National Industrial League and two other teams to be selected from the AAU tournament in process at Denver.

Palmer Choice In Florida Golf

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer was a fairly solid favorite as the $40,000 DeSoto Lakes Open Golf Tournament started today over the long, beautiful, but very tough new DeSoto Lakes course.

The 6,902-yard, par 35-36—71 yard layout was in excellent condition. There were few trees, and a minimum of rough. But the length of the course put a premium on long, accurate driving, and that's where the husky pro from Ligonier, Pa., excels.

Others mentioned as strong contenders were Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif.; George Bayer of Lemont, Ill.; and Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla.

And there always is the unpredictable Sam Snead, who has not been playing much tournament golf lately.

3 Teams Gain Top 10 Group At ABC Firing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three teams crashed into the top ten standings of the American Bowling Congress tournament with heavy pinfalls Wednesday night.

A rousing 3096 series by A&A Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., was a sound rebuttal to those who have said conditions in this 57th ABC tourney will not permit high scores. Crosby-Como Show Causes 'Vibrations'

The Big Crosby-Perry Como fiesta on NBC-TV the other night was just about the best whindig to come along on television—at least, on this particular alley of television—since the Fred Astaire show. I'm sorry I missed the first Crosby-Como show on ABC-TV.

John Crosby

Like the Astaire show, it's hard to put your finger on just why this was such a marvelous hour. Como and Crosby are, of course, old, old pros. That's one reason. But beyond that, I think there's a higher plateau occupied by old man Crosby and by almost no one else.

As a showman, Crosby picks up the people on the same stage with him and deposits them on his own level. Como is a pretty great performer all by himself, but with Crosby he's just a little bit better. At least that's my explanation and, if you have a better one, I'd be pleased to hear it.

IT WAS, among other things, a beautifully paced show. It opened with Crosby usurping Como's place and his theme song ("Come Along With Me"). After a bit of chit-chat (very good chit-chat), the two fell to talking about the great old songs of yesteryear as opposed to that silly nonsense they write now.

They sang some of the old ones like "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers," "Barney Google," "Collegiate."

Shucks, those are all great songs, fellas. You can't really equate a fine intelligent lyric like "I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers"—it can be parsed, can't it?— with "Chi-Chi Meringue" which has bird calls in the middle of it.)

GENEVIEVE got into the act with, among other things, a spirited rendition of "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowd-aire" which came out very Gallic.

Then, in company with Mr. Crosby and Mr. Como, Genevieve got awfully Irish, culminating in a stirring, searching rendition of "It's a Great Day for the Irish." She's never been better.

Even a couple of numbers without Como and Crosby, a cute specialty number by Como's choir and a marvelous dance number "Free and Easy," starring Peter Gennaro, were just great.

The romp ended—as so many of these good musical things do—with a string of great songs and, brother, you've never heard better phrasing, ryhthm or sheer style than the Messrs. Como and Crosby in this duet. In case you'd like to hear it, they're cutting an album.

It had vibrations,—this show, which is about the only way I can explain why one musical show is memorable and another is just run-of-the-mill. This was one of the great ones.

"CBS REPORTS" continued its brilliant record with another bold and enterprising and beautiful film report on the last of the old style South American dictators, Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

Bill Leonard contributed a three-sided portrait of the tough, ruthless and brilliant tyrant which very well could infuriate those who want to hear nothing good about the man.

I thought it was a fine photographic essay on a number of counts.

For one thing, Leonard's narration, which he wrote himself, had flavor and bones and style about it which is very unusual. (Usually they aim no higher than grammar and accuracy.)

For another, there was some great photography of this lovely blood-and history-soaked island, including some of the most beautiful sugar mills you ever saw. (This is very usual. "CBS Reports" has been distinguished by fine and imaginative photography. This was shot by Martin Barnett, the same man who did "The Population Explosion."

LEONARD traced the "republic" clear back to its beginnings as Santa Domingo, the place Columbus discovered. He talked to people of all hues of opinion including one Edward Pauley, an American businessman with a Southern accent, who said:

"The people are happy. You go out in the country and the people are happy" and also natives who considered him a god. And, of course, those who considered him the personification of evil.

We saw the cockfights, the polo, the squalor and a good deal of the sheer preposterousness of it all (such as a Dominican court sentencing Castro and the president of Venezuela to 30 years' hard labor).

Very revealing was an interview with Trujillo in an absent-minded mood. The tyrant was asked whether he resented that word dictator, and he burst out laughing and said: "No no no no." It was scarey.

NILES, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Thomas Smith officially has accepted a bronze statue of former U.S. President William McKinley offered to the city, his birthplace, by tobacco heiress Doris Duke.

The local Railroad Community Committee had offered to transport the replica here from Miss Duke's Somerville, N.J., home. This free transportation and the offer of Niles architect Donald Bostwick to design a pedestal for the statue led to the acceptance of the gift.

Arnold, 80-year-old retired house painter, dug the grave in the family lot here in preparation for his eventual death. He died Wednesday at his home in Massillon, apparently from a heart attack.

CARL A. WERNER, general secretary of the YMCA, examines an early portrait of the late William H. Vodrey, active in "Y" affairs for 42 years. The portrait was presented to the "Y" by his son, Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr., and now hangs in the lobby. College Sets Plan To Help Teachers

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A program designed to help upgrade classroom instruction in the elementary and secondary schools of the area by offering professional discounts in tuition to teachers requiring more formal education was announced today by The College of Steubenville.

The plan involves a 25 per cent reduction in all tuition charges and the waiver of all fees except for a general fee of $5. The program will be open to teachers who do not possess bachelor's degrees and who need more college work, as well as to teachers who possess four-year degrees but who lack the professional education courses needed for permanent certification by the Ohio Department of Instruction.

The program will become effective with the summer school, which will begin June 20. It will continue through succeeding semesters.

Courses available under the program are not confined to the traditional education department offerings. Any course in the curriculum that will aid the teacher in improving professional competence and gaining advancement in the field is covered under the plan.

Production Resumes

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—Production was resumed Wednesday at the Electric Autolite Co. plant, shut down since Friday night by a walkout of 1,100 workers. The workers, members of Local 533, United Auto Workers, were protesting disciplinary action against two union officers the company accused of conducting an election during working hours.

Blind And Deaf Boy Hopes To Be Eagle Scout Soon

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Blind and deaf, Richard Joy hopes to become an Eagle Scout this summer.

Richard, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joy of Van Nuys, Calif., is only one merit badge away from Scouting's highest honor. No other boy in his condition has ever won it.

At the California School for the Blind, he was taught to "listen" by placing his fingers on the chin and lower lip of instructors. He also was taught to speak, which he does in thick but distinguishable tones.

Scoutmaster George Budgen recalls that Richard learned all the knots the first night by holding Budgen's hands as Budgen tied the knots.

Artist Claimed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Miss Katharine Hood McCormick, an artist well known in the East and Midwest, died Wednesday.

Husband Kills Self After Wounding Wife

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — A tavern waitress who was shot three times by her estranged husband before he killed himself was listed in fair condition at Chillicothe Hospital today.

Officials said Mrs. Mary Richardson, 31, was wounded by Albert Richardson, 35, who then turned the .22-caliber pistol on himself.

Crosby-Como Show Causes 'Vibrations'

The Big Crosby-Perry Como fiesta on NBC-TV the other night was just about the best whindig to come along on television—at least, on this particular alley of television—since the Fred Astaire show. I'm sorry I missed the first Crosby-Como show on ABC-TV.

John Crosby

Like the Astaire show, it's hard to put your finger on just why this was such a marvelous hour. Como and Crosby are, of course, old, old pros. That's one reason. But beyond that, I think there's a higher plateau occupied by old man Crosby and by almost no one else.

As a showman, Crosby picks up the people on the same stage with him and deposits them on his own level. Como is a pretty great performer all by himself, but with Crosby he's just a little bit better. At least that's my explanation and, if you have a better one, I'd be pleased to hear it.

IT WAS, among other things, a beautifully paced show. It opened with Crosby usurping Como's place and his theme song ("Come Along With Me"). After a bit of chit-chat (very good chit-chat), the two fell to talking about the great old songs of yesteryear as opposed to that silly nonsense they write now.

They sang some of the old ones like "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers," "Barney Google," "Collegiate."

Shucks, those are all great songs, fellas. You can't really equate a fine intelligent lyric like "I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers"—it can be parsed, can't it?— with "Chi-Chi Meringue" which has bird calls in the middle of it.)

GENEVIEVE got intó the act with, among other things, a spirited rendition of "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowd-aire" which came out very Gallic.

Then, in company with Mr. Crosby and Mr. Como, Genevieve got awfully Irish, culminating in a stirring, searching rendition of "It's a Great Day for the Irish." She's never been better.

Even a couple of numbers without Como and Crosby, a cute specialty number by Como's choir and a marvelous dance number "Free and Easy," starring Peter Gennaro, were just great.

The romp ended—as so many of these good musical things do—with a string of great songs and, brother, you've never heard better phrasing, rythtum or sheer style than the Messrs. Como and Crosby in this duet. In case you'd like to hear it, they're cutting an album.

It had vibrations,—this show, which is about the only way I can explain why one musical show is memorable and another is just run-of-the-mill. This was one of the great ones.

"CBS REPORTS" continued its brilliant record with another bold and enterprising and beautiful film report on the last of the old style South American dictators, Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

For another, there was some great photography of this lovely blood-and history-soaked island, including some of the most beautiful sugar mills you ever saw. (This is very usual. "CBS Reports" has been distinguished by fine and imaginative photography. This was shot by Martin Barnett, the same man who did "The Population Explosion."

College Sets Plan To Help Teachers

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A program designed to help upgrade classroom instruction in the elementary and secondary schools of the area by offering professional discounts in tuition to teachers requiring more formal education was announced today by The College of Steubenville.

The plan involves a 25 per cent reduction in all tuition charges and the waiver of all fees except for a general fee of $6. The program will be open to teachers who do not possess bachelor's degrees and who need more college work, as well as to teachers who possess four-year degrees but who lack the professional education courses needed for permanent certification by the Ohio Department of Instruction.

The program will become effective with the summer school, which will begin June 20. It will continue through succeeding semesters.

Courses available under the program are not confined to the traditional education department offerings. Any course in the curriculum that will aid the teacher in improving professional competence and gaining advancement in the field is covered under the plan.

Production Resumes

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—Production was resumed Wednesday at the Electric Autolite Co. plant, shut down since Friday night by a walkout of 1,100 workers. The workers, members of Local 533, United Auto Workers, were protesting disciplinary action against two union officers the company accused of conducting an election during working hours.

Blind And Deaf Boy Hopes To Be Eagle Scout Soon

Richard, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joy of Van Nuys, Calif., is only one merit badge away from Scouting's highest honor. No other boy in his condition has ever won it.

At the California School for the Blind, he was taught to "listen" by placing his fingers on the chin and lower lip of instructors. He also was taught to speak, which he does in thick but distinguishable tones.

Scoutmaster George Budgen recalls that Richard learned all the knots the first night by holding Budgen's hands as Budgen tied the knots.

Artist Claimed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Miss Katharine Hood McCormick, an artist well known in the East and Midwest, died Wednesday.

Husband Kills Self After Wounding Wife

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — A tavern waitress who was shot three times by her estranged husband before he killed himself was listed in fair condition at Chillicothe Hospital today.

Officials said Mrs. Mary Richardson, 31, was wounded by Albert Richardson, 35, who then turned the .22-caliber pistol on himself.

Customers in Coke's tavern, a mile north of here on U.S. 23, ducked for cover from the fusillade of bullets. The bullets aimed at Mrs. Richardson were fired over the heads of diners. She was struck in the left shoulder, chest and head.

Ronald F. Ackerman, 18, was fined $10 and costs for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

James R. Paisley, 34, of Paris and Bryan E. Vowell, 52, of Stone Mountain, Ga., each forfeited $20 bonds, Paisley for operating a motor vehicle left of the center line and Vowell for permitting an insecured cargo to drop on the highway. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

'56 Parking Lot Case Winds Up In High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An argument which began in a Dayton parking lot in 1956 wound up in the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday.

The court let stand the conviction of Robert J. Withrow Jr. for refusal to obey a police officer's order to move on because the parking lot was filled. The officer said Withrow's car blocked the sidewalk.

In a 5-2 split decision, the high court upheld the conviction of Dolree Mapp of Cleveland on a charge of possession of lewd books and pictures. She will have to serve a seven-year term in Marysville Reformatory.

2 Men High In Sky With Rattler On Loose

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—There they were high in the sky with a rattlesnake loose in their small two-place airplane.

Baskin and H. D. Lile bagged five rattlers on a hunt Wednesday and thought all of them were safely packed for the flight home. A mid-flight check showed otherwise. The biggest one—a 4-footer—was missing.

'56 Parking Lot Case Winds Up In High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An argument which began in a Dayton parking lot in 1956 wound up in the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday.

The court let stand the conviction of Robert J. Withrow Jr. for refusal to obey a police officer's order to move on because the parking lot was filled. The officer said Withrow's car blocked the sidewalk.

In a 5-2 split decision, the high court upheld the conviction of Dolree Mapp of Cleveland on a charge of possession of lewd books and pictures. She will have to serve a seven-year term in Marysville Reformatory.

The Po River is in Italy.

2 Men High In Sky With Rattler On Loose

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—There they were high in the sky with a rattlesnake loose in their small two-place airplane.

"I almost bailed out right then—even if I didn't have a parachute," reported pilot Clyde Baskin.

Baskin and H. D. Lile bagged five rattlers on a hunt Wednesday and thought all of them were safely packed for the flight home. A mid-flight check showed otherwise. The biggest one—a 4-footer—was missing.

Cabbage Plants Wait Removal To Fields

While wild plants in the area are just beginning to respond to longer daylight hours of the annual spring cycle, a different atmosphere prevails in warmer greenhouses.

The Conkle and Hillyard farms near Chester have 100,000 cabbage plants growing in greenhouses and are waiting for favorable soil and weather conditions to set them abreed.

Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural agent, said both families are using plastic greenhouses to harden the cabbage plants. This is a process used to adapt the plants gradually to colder temperatures so that the cabbages can stand colder weather when set out.

Robert M. Conkle is operating a small greenhouse tomato project, Johnson reported. He termed it a "pilot operation." The greenhouse is wood and covered with plastic. Conkle hopes the tomatoes will ripen soon, the agent said.

Catholics To Hold Tours Sunday At District Churches

This Sunday, Catholic churches throughout the Steubenville Diocese will sponsor an "Open Church Sunday" when more than 70 parishes will conduct guided tours of non-Catholic friends, explaining the furnishings and various aspects of Catholic worship and beliefs.

The observance is a project initiated by the Catholic men of the diocese as part of the program sponsored by Pope John XXIII to encourage unity among all men through better understanding and evidence of good will and Christian charity that should exist between all Christian faiths.

In a letter to the pastors of all Catholic churches of the diocese, Bishop John King Mussio said "This is not a convert-making plan but simply an outstretched hand of neighborliness to those in our community who would like to visit us and to understand our ways a little better."

At the Nativity of Our Lord Mission at Hammondsville, the program will be held from 3 to 9 p. m. Fr. George J. Adams is pastor.

House Coalition Split In Contest Over Civil Rights

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats which long has ruled the roost in the House has reached a parting of the ways over civil rights legisiation.

Whether the estrangement will be smoothed over or there will be a complete divorce remains to be seen.

After Wednesday's key voting on a referee provision in the civil rights bill, some influential Southerners were irate over the wholesale support given the provision by Republicans.

Southern Democrats fought the proposal with everything they had. They had counted on substantial GOP support. The vote was 295-124 in favor of the provision, the opposition coming from 100 Southern Democrats and 24 Republicans. On the prevailing side were 172 Democrats and 123 Republicans.

Southerners who long have helped the GOP minority upset the Northern Democrats — including votes to sustain numerous Eisenhower vetoes — were vocally bitter about the showing.

They wouldn't comment for attribution but they made no effort to conceal their feelings privately.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I repair loose drawer knobs?

A. Where the screw holes have enlarged, remove the knob. Fill the hole with a sliver of wood (a piece of match stick will do), preferably dipped in glue, then screw the knob in again. For knobs with wooden screws, apply glue to the threaded part and under the flange.

Q. How can I cope with a kitchen drain that has become stopped up with grease?

A. Often you can melt this grease by holding an electric iron, turned to its hottest point, against the drainpipe at the trap. Then allow the hot water faucet to run for several minutes.

Q. How can I remove some iodine stains from furniture?

A. By wrapping a damp cloth around your finger, dipping the end into some finely powdered pumice, then rubbing the spots carefully.

2 Cases Assigned

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two cases have been assigned to members of the Legal Aid Society public defender organization, opening the way for a court test on its operation. The cases, first to be assigned to the new organization, were given out by Common Pleas Judge Charles W. White. The defenders are assigned as individual attorneys but are expected to turn over their fees to the Legal Aid Society. The court test would be an action to stop such transfer of fees.

The consulting engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., also of Rochester, had been employed over a period of several months in making preliminary surveys.

Total cost of this first phase of the expansion program is in excess of $2 million. Work is scheduled for completion in February 1961.

Included in the project is a new two-story liberal arts building, 60 by 275 feet; a science wing, 60 by 144 feet, holding chemistry and biology laboratories, and a two-story library building 61 by 160 feet.

A new monastery to house the Franciscan Fathers of the Third Order Regular who administer, teach and otherwise assist in the operation of the college also will be built. The structure will provide devotional, residential and recreational facilities for 22 members of the order. Of two - story construction, it will contain 11,000 square feet.

The development will give the institution more than twice as much space as is presently available in its downtown location.

Bidding Set Tuesday For Leetonia Bridges

SALEM — Contractors will bid Tuesday for improvement of four bridges on State Route 344 in Leetonia, according to the Ohio Department of Highways. The project is part of a major flood protection program for the area, now underway by the Army Corps of Engineers.

On Washington St., the existing bridge near the road to the city dump will be replaced by a new structure; at the East Branch of Cherry Valley Run on State St., the stream channel will be abandoned and the bridge removed; on Hazel St., the bridge over Cherry Valley Run will be reconstructed and on Columbia St., the existing bridge at Cherry Valley Run will be replaced. Traffic will be detoured from these streets during part of the construction period.

Estimated cost of the project, including right - of - way and engineering expenses, is $80,000. Twenty-seven other construction and maintenance jobs are listed o the slate for Tuesday's bid-opening session, the fourth of the current year.

Chaplain Is Speaker For Kaycees Meeting

"St. Joseph" was the topic of Fr. Thomas G. Mulhearn, council chaplain and an assistant at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, at a meeting of the Carroll Council 500, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night in the K. of C. Hall.

The feast of St. Joseph was celebrated March 19.

At the 7:30 a. m. Mass Sunday, members will receive quarterly Holy Communion in a group.

James Buchheit, grand knight, announced that the auxiliary will sponsor a "fish fry" Friday from 5 to 7 p. m. in the council rooms.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday night, when delegates and alternates will be elected to the state convention May 29-31 at Dayton.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I repair loose drawer knobs?

A. Where the screw holes have enlarged, remove the knob. Fill the hole with a sliver of wood (a piece of match stick will do), preferably dipped in glue, then screw the knob in again. For knobs with wooden screws, apply glue to the threaded part and under the flange.

Q. How can I cope with a kitchen drain that has become stopped up with grease?

A. Often you can melt this grease by holding an electric iron, turned to its hottest point, against the drainpipe at the trap. Then allow the hot water faucet to run for several minutes.

Q. How can I remove some iodine stains from furniture?

A. By wrapping a damp cloth around your finger, dipping the end into some finely powdered pumice, then rubbing the spots carefully.

2 Cases Assigned

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two cases have been assigned to members of the Legal Aid Society public defender organization, opening the way for a court test on its operation. The cases, first to be assigned to the new organization, were given out by Common Pleas Judge Charles W. White. The defenders are assigned as individual attorneys but are expected to turn over their fees to the Legal Aid Society. The court test would be an action to stop such transfer of fees.

Yes, In Every Loaf of New Wonder Enriched Bread

TRIPLE - TRIPLE - TRIPLE PROTEINS!

3 DIFFERENT PROTEINS BLENDED TOGETHER TO IMPROVE BIOLOGIC VALUE

PROTEIN FROM WHEAT
PROTEIN FROM YEAST

AND YOU GET BETTER FLAVOR IN NEW WONDER BREAD!

As every mother knows, the most important nutrient you can give your growing child is protein.

Because, without protein, there can be no new cells for growth, no new cells to replace worn-out ones.

This wonderful new loaf of Wonder Bread is made for those thoughtful mothers to serve to their growing children to help sturdy, healthy growth because it supplies a blend of triple proteins which are needed daily.

But that's not all. Because New Wonder Bread with "Triple Proteins" has a better flavor.

With matchless skill, our bakers have perfected a flavor in this New Wonder Bread to make dowager drool and children cheer.

The simplest peanut-butter or jam sandwich made with New Wonder Bread becomes a royal feast for your prince or princess.

Out Of This World—Plain Or Toasted

And—to make the grayest morning golden bright—pop New Wonder Bread into your toaster. Taste the difference added milk sugar makes.

But enough of all this palaver—see for yourself why New Wonder Bread tastes better and toasts better (2 loaves free if you don't agree).

Step over to your nearest grocer now and get New Wonder Bread with "Triple Proteins." You'll love it. So will all the other members of your family!

©1960, CONTINENTAL BAKING COMPANY, Incorporated

TWO LOAVES FREE If You Don't Agree

If you don't agree that the New Wonder Bread is far better for flavor and toasting than any bread you have ever served, send us the wrapper with your name and address.

We will send you an order on your grocer for two loaves free. We will just assume there must have been something wrong with your taste buds that morning, so you need another try. We are absolutely sure that no one ever tasted bread so good. This offer good until May 14, 1960.

Here at the Wonder Research Laboratories, the largest and most modern baking laboratories in the world, the formulation for New Wonder Enriched Bread was worked out by leading baking technologists. No other baker offers nutritional research and quality control on such an impressive continuing scale; no other baker offers so impressive a guarantee of consistency in the excellence of the product. Wonder Bread serves the nation through better nutrition.

FOR TOAST SUPREME— GET NEW WONDER BREAD

You know that toast flavor depends on how well some of the starch in bread is "caramelized" by your toaster.

What you may not know is the magic flavor "kick" added milk sugar can give to toast flavor.

Bitter Words At Meeting

DiSalle Tries To Smooth Fight In Liquor 'Family'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Liquor Board must get the reputation of being fair — and tough, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Wednesday night as members of the board and the Liquor Department assailed each other during a special meeting. DiSalle sought to forestall a battle royal between the groups.

The department believes the board has been "soft" toward permit holders who violate liquor laws and regulations.

But board member John Cianflona asserted:

"So far as I am concerned, the enforcement in the department stinks."

Board chairman Creed J. Lester, former judge of the Mount Vernon Municipal Court, obviously indignant, opened with:

"Never have I been caught in a more unfavorable situation. Frankly, I am shocked that the independence of a quasi-judicial body should be challenged by an administrator."

After two hours of the often heated discussion DiSalle said:

"I have the feeling that there should be improved communication between the board and the administration. Certainly the department should have an ironclad case when it cites a violator before the board. The whole thing in enforcement is the certainty of punishment."

Herman David of Cleveland and Miss Esther Hardy of Fremont, other board members, had cited cases in which they said evidence has been faulty, non-appearing or insufficient.

The governor told the two groups that a permit holder who makes Sunday sales should be given the idea there is no fix.

"We ought to remove the idea that a permit holder can buy protection," he commented.

"Light penalties are a great deterrent to over-all enforcement," Crouch asserted. "A suspension of 7 to 14 days is not much of a deterrent; the mathematical chances of a single permit holder getting caught are slight, so light penalties are almost meaning less."

Crouch said the average penalty for Sunday sales in the last five months of 1959 was 18.7 days suspension. So far this year the penalty for the same offense has been 7.2 days, he said.

Lester said he had no quarrel with those who disagree with board decisions. The board in good faith has tried hard to be fair in its judgments, he said.

However, Cianflona asserted:

"So far as I am concerned, the enforcement in the department stinks. Mr. Smith is a nice boy, but he's going to have to learn. Mr. Crouch is going to have to cooperate. The whole thing won't work if we start throwing bricks at each other."

DiSalle showed obvious unhappiness that Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy was not represented at the meeting, which apparently did clear some of the air between the groups.

White Students Shun Negroes

'Cruel Situation' Cited In Little Rock Classrooms

By The Associated Press

A school official says although Negroes have cracked the color barrier in Little Rock, a cruel situation exists in the integrated classrooms.

Everett Tucker Jr., school board president, told a federal judge Wednesday that the eight Negroes attending integrated high schools are shunned by their white classmates.

Negro students had protested to Dist. Judge John E. Miller the school board's use of an Arkansas pupil placement law to limit integration. The board has assigned only a few Negroes to once-white high schools and has rejected applications of about 50.

"There is now an intangible area of attitude—of intolerance, if you will—and there is not a great deal the board can do about that," Tucker said. He said, however, that the integration picture is brighter than in 1957.

Arguments and fights erupted early Sunday at a dance at the NCO Club between white and Negro airmen. Later some of the white airmen fashioned a crude cross and set it afire.

Lt. Col. S. A. Tidwell Jr., commander of the West Mesa Radar Station where the incidents occurred, made little of the situation. But airmen reported Wednesday that friction between white and Negro airmen had been brewing for some time.

Joseph Hernon, 23-year-old graduate student at Catholic University, led a group of about 20 Negro and white students in a parade to try to win approval by Congress of a strong civil rights bill.

WVU Plans $4.8 Million Bonds Sale For Biggest Housing Plan

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Self-liquidating bonds in the amount of $4,800,000 will be sold here April 13 to finance the biggest housing program in the history of West Virginia University.

The program consists of the construction of four apartment buildings and additions to two residence halls on the WVU campus.

A Baltimore firm, John McShain Inc., will commence work on the projects after the bonds are sold. McShain's bid of $4,384,000 was lowest of the 10 opened here yesterday. McShain stipulated the work would be done in 450 calendar days. This figure also was the lowest submitted.

McShain did the work on the WVU Teaching Hospital and now is building the Agricultural-Engineering plant here.

The WVU Board of Governors opened the bids. The board also will be on hand for the sale of the bonds. Rent from the apartments and rooms will be used to meet the principal and interest payments on the bonds.

Two faculty apartment buildings on the Medical Center campus, each containing 12 two or three bedroom apartments.

Left $3 Million Estate

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Lester W. Blyth of suburban Shaker Heights, who died Jan. 26, left an estate of $3,397,710, according to an inventory filed here Tuesday in Probate Court. Most of it goes into a trust for her two daughters, Mrs. Henry H. Timken Jr. of Canton and Mrs. Mary B. Davis, Birmingham, Mich. Mrs. Blyth's husband, who died in 1936, was a partner in the accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst.

Cerebral Palsy Film Shown Wellsville PTA

A film on cerebral palsy was screened by Mrs. C. V. Campbell of East Liverpool at the meeting of the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association Monday night in the Wellsville school.

She also answered questions pertaining to the disease. During business conducted by Mrs. Wanda Hanlon, president, the group voted to buy a trophy for the winner and two pins for the runnersup in a spelling bee to be held in the school. Mrs. Dolly Harding was devotion leader and read Rom. 13. The Lord's Prayer was given in unison.
